

with the complications arising out of the extradition proceedings. Chancellor Bauer, in a statement to the press today, said:

"Germany finds itself in a critical position, similar to that when confronted with the question whether it would sign the peace treaty or not. Then now the government tries to reject the so-called clauses of honor."

"A majority of the assembly voted in favor of signing the treaty on June 28, 1919, presuming that these clauses would not become effective. Their efforts were unsuccessful, and, under pressure of the threatened occupation of Germany, they resolved to accept the treaty in its entirety."

Hints France Seeks Revenge.

"There was no lack of a sense of national honor. It was known that France looked for an opportunity for its troops to enter Germany for the purpose of separating the north and the south. It was an act of self-preservation that we did not hesitate to sign."

"Meanwhile we left no stone unturned to procure a satisfactory solution of the question relating to handing over of the persons demanded, and we have done our utmost to convince the entente that we are expected to do what no government could comply with."

"In a discussion with the representatives of the entente our standpoint was fully appreciated by America and Japan and by England's official representatives, but not by the official representatives of France."

"We tried to get the list and the charges against those named before the ratification of the peace treaty, so that we ourselves might take proceedings against them. Our request was refused and our attempt to establish a state court was frustrated."

Will Avoid Provocation.

"Our standpoint was explained in the note of Jan. 25, and we again emphasize it. But we shall strictly avoid any provocation."

"For this reason the government regrets that Baron von Lersner refused to forward the entente note. In any such action the interests of the whole nation must be decisive, and not the honor of a single individual."

The German note of Jan. 25 begged the allies to renounce execution of article 228 of the peace treaty, requiring the surrender of persons accused of acts in violation of the laws and customs of war. The note affirmed that the execution of article 228 would infallibly cause political and economic troubles, which would have a serious effect on the production of the nation.

Might Take Another Tack.

The Manchester Guardian, discussing the return to Berlin of Baron von Lersner and the complication which has arisen over the extradition of German war criminals, suggests as a possible issue of the dilemma, trial by "the permanent court of international justice," provided for in article 14 of the peace treaty, or a court internationally established at The Hague.

The Daily Chronicle, which is supposed to reflect Premier Lloyd George's views, regrets that the allies have thrown away a powerful lever for the exertion of pressure on Germany in permitting German prisoners in France to be repatriated.

The Westminster Gazette says: "Now that the list is definitely known to include the names of Von Hindenburg and Ludendorff, there is no difficulty in seeing that it puts the German government in an impossible position."

"No civilized community with national memories, however defeated, could conceivably proceed on the demand of its conquerors to hunt down, seize, and hand over its most famous generals for trial on charges which might conceivably lead to their execution. The demand can be enforced only by military action of an overwhelming kind."

NOTE AND LIST "LOST"

BERLIN, Feb. 5.—The present whereabouts of the official extradition list and the accompanying covering note is a matter of speculation so far as the German foreign office is concerned. Baron von Lersner's precipitate procedure in leaving Paris after refusing to forward the list to the government has put the government "in a hole."

While his action has not been officially condemned, the cabinet statement nevertheless permits of the conclusion that both the cabinet and the foreign office were embarrassed by his

A declaration, read by the Prussian minister of the interior at a public sitting today of the imperial council, said:

"The council shares with the German people its indignation at the entente's demand, and with the imperial government declares that it cannot be fulfilled. The council appeals against this indignity inflicted upon the German people to the world's sense of justice."

Alluding to this declaration, Dr. Eduard David, minister without portfolio, says there was complete unanimity among all German communities that the demand of the entente powers could not be fulfilled by any German government, which also fitted in with the German government's policy.

Warning from Noske.

"Preserve all your dignity," is an added statement issued by Minister of Defense Noske.

"As great as is the excitement of the population on account of the entente governments' extradition demands," Herr Noske says, "the expectation must be expressed that the requisite dignity will be preserved by every one, and that all molestation of members of foreign missions and of military commissions be refrained from, so that I may not be obliged to take more drastic protective measures."

Dr. Meyer, rector of Berlin university, in a statement today declared if the demand for the extradition of the Germans desired by the allies is officially presented it will be torn up. The rector is returning diplomas conferred on him before the war by the Universities of Oxford, Liverpool, St. Andrews, Chicago, and Harvard.

SPLIT UP EUROPE SO BUSY HATING IT CANNOT WORK

Bolshevism a Menace to Divided States.

BY GEORGE SELDES.
(Chicago Tribune Special Service.)
(By Special Cable.)

VIENNA, Feb. 4, via Paris, Feb. 5.—In almost every country of central Europe men and women are discussing the crime of Versailles. But as one goes farther from Paris and approaches the frontiers of Russia a new note is struck: Lenin and Trotsky are counting on every one of these crimes to advance the views of bolshevism.

In Italy, Yugoslavia and Rumania, the leaders of the government and the voice of the citizens are unanimous in condemning the decision of the so-called peace conference. In Austria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Ukraine the opinion is general that the breaking up of the strong countries and the creation of new ones without means or opportunity of becoming strong is a direct invitation to Lenin to advance with his propaganda and his army. If the latter should be necessary to support the former.

Tragedy of Ignorance.

The peace conference is called the greatest tragedy of ignorance the world ever has known. Others to the contrary say it is rather the greatest piece of subtle intrigue the world ever has known. The Italians say they see British plans to conquer the world and French plans to conquer all Europe.

The Serbians, Croats and Slovaks admit their governments are fundamentally weak. The Hungarians will never forgive the wink the allies gave Rumania when Budapest was sacked and the country ravaged in the style of the Prussians in Belgium. Austria is almost too hungry to think of anything except food and coal, but it too sees the menace which faces western Europe—the barrier to Russia broken to pieces.

Ukraine Has a Kick.

The men may look neat and orderly in the council chambers of Versailles, but a reporter traveling central Europe hears nothing but the loud voice of discontent—the whisper of bolshevism.

On that subject the most outspoken are the Ukrainians who have a mission in Vienna which is demanding recognition for their country. The Ukrainians are pledged against bolshevism. Yet despite this pledge they accuse the big powers of having encouraged Denikin to attack them. Instead of joining with them to stop the bolsheviks. They point out that on certain dates when Denikin was marching triumphantly through Ukrainian territory on the road to Moscow he turned to the west and wiped out Ukraine—a nation friendly to the allies, thus losing a friend and a chance for victory.

Trouble in Poland.

Reports from Poland tell of the great fear which has grown with the approach of the bolsheviks. Poland like Ukraine has fought Lenin and Trotsky, but the Ukrainians point out the big powers never attempted to link the two against the common enemy, permitting certain actions which kept these nations apart.

The hostility which almost every nation in new Europe feels against another nation is called the work of the peace conference. In addition to international hostilities, there are also internal dissensions which are laid to the same cause, and the two are keeping central Europe seething, instead of sobering up and going to work.

WASHINGTON NEWS —IN BRIEF—

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
(Washington Bureau of The Tribune.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 5.—EVIDENCE has reached Washington that soviet propaganda designed to promote class antagonism is still being sent out from Moscow despite testimony of Ludwig Martens, so-called "soviet ambassador" from Russia, who told a senate committee that such practices had been abandoned.

INCREASE of smoking by women has grown so alarmingly that the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition, and morals has issued a warning that if women don't stop smoking there may be a bitter-end fight against tobacco launched.

THE senate foreign relations committee was told by a New York mining engineer that recognition of Caranza was a mistake and that a firm American policy toward Mexico would be beneficial to the prestige of this country in Latin America.

SURGEON GENERAL IRELAND, reviewing the influenza epidemic in military camps, says the epidemic is not as severe as in 1918. Conditions at Camp Grant show that one in every eleven contracted the disease whereas last year it was one in every four.

HOUSE Democrats will hold a caucus on Monday to take a stand on the question of universal military training. Southern Democrats are attempting to put the party on record as opposed to it.

ORGANIZED labor, it is believed, will fall in any attempt to prevent the approval of the conference report on the railroad bill.

POLAND STANDS ALONE AS ALLIES SEEK RED TRADE

Patek Warned Attack Will Get No Support.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The peace discussions between the Poles and the bolsheviks are being watched with the deepest interest, since the peace of Europe depends on whether the treaty is signed. Poland is regarded as the keystone.

Since the visit of Stanislas Patek, Polish minister of foreign affairs, to France and England for conferences various reports have been published regarding the allied attitude. Diplomats say that the word the Polish foreign minister really carried back to Warsaw was substantially this:

Allies Remaining Neutral.

"The allies do not propose to use Poland as an arrow head to pierce bolshevik Russia. The allies cannot place themselves in the position of advising Poland to attack the bolsheviks, nor can the allies promise assistance to Poland in such event. Should the bolsheviks make an unprovoked assault, that would alter the situation. Poland's attention has been called to the fact that the allies are establishing certain trade relations with Russia. Whether Poland shall make peace with the bolsheviks is a matter for her alone to decide."

Reds Invading East.

The attitude of both the bolshevik and the Afghans toward the Persians is becoming increasingly hostile, according to British war office advices. Unverified reports from the trans-Caspian area say that the transport of bolshevik troops thence is continuing at the rate of about 2,000 a week. These troops are said to be well equipped and led by officers of the old Russian army. Their morale and training are believed to be good.

Reds Must Pay Debts.

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 5.—Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Finland, and Holland have agreed they will not resume trade with soviet Russia before Russia's debt to nationals of those countries has been paid or guaranteed. It is learned here.

SOCIALISTS IN OFFICE RULED BY ALIENS, CHARGE

of C. Worker Tells of Party's System.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 5.—Peter W. Collins, a Socialist, was recalled to the stand at today's session of the trial of the five alleged Socialist assemblymen before the assembly judiciary committee to support a claim by the prosecution that the Socialist party was dominated by aliens.

The claim was the basis of a charge that Socialist public officials were controlled by dues paying aliens through whom they had been nominated. Earlier in the trial Mayor George R. Lunn of Schenectady had testified that prior to being expelled from the Socialist party he once had signed such a resignation.

When adjournment was taken until Tuesday, the prosecution at the end of the third week had virtually closed its case. Counsel announced that only some "odds and ends," including deposition of a witness in Milwaukee, remained to be introduced. It is expected the defense will open Tuesday afternoon or Wednesday at the latest and its attorneys have announced they expect to finish in a week.

ITALIAN FISTS PUT PUNCH INTO H.C.L. PROTESTS

"Free for All" Ends Chamber Session.

ROME, Feb. 4.—[Delayed.]—A stormy session of the chamber of deputies today ended in a free for all fight. Sig. Orlando, president of the chamber suspended the session after Socialists and Catholics had fought for some time.

Questioning of Sig. Muriadi, food controller, on the cause for the high price of oil started the row. When a man was ejected from the public gallery for shouting "Long live the proletariat," Socialists began hurling invectives at Muriadi and at the Catholics.

Catholics, Socialists Clash. Muriadi in a speech attempted to explain that national oil production was insufficient.

Cagliari, which produces most of the country's oil, he said, was putting forth scarcely enough for local consumption, "but would do its best."

At this point he was interrupted by cries of "God help us."

Catholics and Socialists began hurling insults at one another.

Sig. Pandebiano, Socialist, gave the signal for the actual fighting by rushing among the Catholics and striking at deputies all about him. For some time the struggle continued.

Conservative a Warrior. In the fighting, Deputi Serrati and Barberi distinguished themselves. The last named was dragged away from the fray by three companions. The conservative deputy, Sig. Maury, who was surrounded by Socialists, let fly blows with his left and right fists, toppling foes on all sides.

Sig. Orlando, president of the chamber, finally suspended the sitting.

MANILA EXHIBIT BURNED; 20,000 FLEE IN A PANIC

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable. [Copyright: 1920.]

MANILA, Feb. 5.—Manila's nine day carnival ended in a disaster on the sixth night tonight when a conflagration consumed half the huge inclosure on Wallace field.

Twenty thousand persons on the grounds made a headlong rush for two narrow exits. During the panic which ensued scores of Filipinos were seriously injured.

The flames spread with rapidity, consuming the flimsy roof and rafter structures in less than half an hour and devastating several acres of exhibits.

Soldiers tore down the side of an airplane exhibit and saved one De Havilland 4 and two Curtiss machines, which they dragged to safety by hand. The military exhibit was barely saved by soldiers, mostly Siberian veterans who had just arrived.

Students in the navigation school of the United States shipping board went to the Municipal Pier yesterday afternoon for practical instruction in the use of the sextant.

DEMOCRATS TO RESURRECT J.B.?

THREAT IS MADE

Love Feast in New York Develops Revolt.

New York, Feb. 5.—[Special.]—The prohibition question raised its head tonight at the Democratic love feast held for National Chairman Homer S. Cummings.

Defying William Jennings Bryan and any others of the same views, Gov. Edwards of New Jersey tossed into the political arena the fight of a people to determine personal desires. He declared he would carry his fight to the party convention in San Francisco. He was supported by a telegram from Gov. Smith of New York, who through illness was unable to attend the banquet, but who by telegraph denounced prohibition.

Edwards already has been denounced by Mr. Bryan for his views on liquor. Mr. Cummings also was rebuked by the Governor because he was present at a banquet dinner at which Mr. Edwards voiced his opinion in regard to liquor.

Edwards Asked to Speak. Tonight Mr. Edwards was called on to speak, although he was not on the regular program. He declared that a great issue had emerged from the past, "the issue of state rights and personal liberty." He asserted that the people must be decided by the people next November.

"If the federal government," he said, "may subvert the doctrines of state rights and, without a commission or mandate from the people, enter upon free rides and into our homes with the bureaucratic system of office holders and overlordship, the theory of our constitutional government and all the rights incident to home rule and local state government are destroyed."

Under such a system the indestructible union of indestructible states becomes a myth and we have the necessary alternative of a great superpower at Washington imposing its will upon us in the direction of our habits, our manners, our tastes, and our local customs, until nothing remains of the independent state of our fathers but the name.

"To me, this situation is a political sacrilege, and I purpose to carry the fight to San Francisco regardless of what any man or set of men may personally think so as to bring about a popular reassertment of the doctrine of state rights and popular local home rule upon which our fathers founded this government."

"Worse Than Prussia." Gov. Smith's contribution said: "Do not forget the time honored Democratic doctrine that the government is most effective which governs the least. This precept of Democratic faith in the recent past has been grievously and willfully sinned against when, in the name of democracy, there was imposed upon 100,000,000 free people, without asking their direct consent, a restriction to their personal liberty which Prussia in her palmy days never dreamed of."

The name of Admiral Sims was introduced by John M. Riehe, the toastmaster, at the conclusion of an address by Secretary of the Navy Daniels.

At the mention of Admiral Sims, there were hisses from some of those present.

WOMEN WHO SMOKE MAY BRING WAR ON TOBACCO FOR MEN

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—If women do not stop smoking they may cause a campaign against tobacco. The increase in the use of tobacco by American women is alarming the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church.

"The increase in the use of tobacco by women during the last year is appalling," says a statement issued by the Methodist board today.

A phase of present day feminism demands every privilege for women that man claims for himself. Concerning the justice of this demand there can be no question. Concerning its expediency much can be said.

The more sedentary life of women tends to an excess in the use of tobacco and produces more serious results than is caused by its use among men. The nervous constitution of a woman has been compared to that of an adolescent boy. The effect of tobacco upon them is similar to its effect on immature youths.

N. W. U. STUDENTS DARE SOFT ICE TO REACH STEAMER

Through the telescope of Dearborn observatory at Northwestern university, Prof. Phillip Fox yesterday watched four students make a hazardous trip to the steamship Alabama bound off Evanston. Capt. Charles Carland of the Evanston coast guard station shouted a warning to the boys as they neared.

The boys were seen to reach the ship, go aboard, and later return safely to shore. If the university authorities learn their identities they will be disciplined.

"Perhaps I can identify them," Prof. Fox said last night. "Then, perhaps I can't."

The icebound steamships Illinois of the Chicago, Racine, and Milwaukee line and Missouri of the Goodrich Transit company, which had been fast in the mouth of the river since Tuesday, worked their way free during the afternoon and headed for Milwaukee.

Motion Picture Actor Falls 700 Feet to Death

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 5.—Earl Burgess, a motion picture actor, was killed here today when he fell seven hundred feet from an airplane on which he was performing in the making of a comedy.

Burgess was flying with Lieut. Walter Hawkins. The actor was to cast off a dummy from the plane, but fell himself. The camera men thought the falling body was the dummy and continued photographing.

Burgess was a professional "stunt man" and had been employed in motion picture work for ten years. He was said to have been the first man to make a successful parachute jump from an airplane.

BRITISH TO CUT LUXURY IMPORT FROM AMERICA

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

(By Special Cable.)

(Copyright: 1920: By the Tribune Company.)

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The British press today started a campaign to restrict imports of luxuries from America while promoting export to America of British manufactured goods. This, it is declared, is the only way to right the exchange rate, and undoubtedly the campaign is a result of an agreement of government financiers to proceed along these lines. It is pointed out that in four days last week $31,184 worth of automobiles were landed in Great Britain, while it is declared the large imports from America of toilet articles, soap, tires, shoes, cutlery, and office equipment could be made here.

It is emphasized that there is a great demand in America for high class British goods, and manufacturers are urged to set aside a definite proportion of their production for export.

Begin Reducing Expenses.

Meantime the government action to reduce expenditures while increasing income is showing some effect. For the first time since the beginning of the war the national revenue exceeds the expenditures. During January the revenue was $5,455,000 daily and the expenditure $4,990,000. Payment of the half yearly income tax alone reaches $2,000,000 daily.

An interesting experiment in the restoration of trade with the central empires is now going on in London. Dr. Erich Plator, secretary of the Austrian national chamber of commerce, arrived in London with $250,000 worth of goods to be sold here. The proceeds will be spent for raw materials for Austria.

Already an American agent named Henry Kuhn has arrived in America for the purpose of surveying the market.

COTTON PROBLEM SERIOUS

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The situation created by the decision of the cotton importers to cease importations is unprecedented in the history of the Lancashire trade; but, although it is admitted to be serious, it is asserted there is no cause for anxiety.

According to the figures printed here the stocks of American cotton total 766,533 bales, with an additional 438,000 bales on the sea. Aside from these stocks, the spinners are said to hold considerable quantities, probably enough to keep the mills going two or three weeks.

Sir Charles Macara, former president of the Master Cotton Spinners' association, in an interview in the Daily Mail says the problem is serious.

"If importation is stopped for a considerable time, the cotton industry must also cease," he asserts. "The government ought to move energetically."

PAYNE TO SELL GERMAN SHIPS UNDER HAMMER

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—With the approval of President Wilson, the former German passenger vessels will be auctioned to the highest bidder by John Barton Payne, chairman of the shipping board. Sales will begin next week.

The International Mercantile Marine company has bid $4,000,000 for the Leviathan and slightly less than $30,000,000 for the entire group of thirty ships.

Representatives of all the shipping companies will be invited to the sales and the bidding will take place in the open.

The ships must remain under the American flag, subject to government requisition in emergency.

France Wants Preference.

PARIS, Feb. 5.—The reparations commission may consider the claims of the French government and of the United States over right of preference in the purchase of the German ships interned in Brazil.

PLEA FOR END OF FLU MILK ORDER AGAIN REFUSED

Milk distributors petitioned Health Commissioner Robertson for the second time yesterday to withdraw his order requiring milk to be heated to 155 degrees in pasteurization, as a safeguard against the spread of influenza. The commissioner refused.

"There are hundreds of cases of influenza and pneumonia in the territory this milk comes from, and the high temperature assures Chicago a clean milk supply, though the cream line on the milk bottle is absent," Dr. Robertson said.

"Flu pneumonia," continued to decrease. The figures yesterday were: New cases of flu, 579; deaths, 61; new cases of pneumonia, 237; deaths, 61.

Cash and merchandise to the value of $49,459.69 were returned to their owners during January by the police, according to Chief Garrity. Stolen automobiles returned numbered 247. Their value was $371,050.

SCHWEIBURG GIRL KEEPS UP FIGHT ON EXTRADITION

Insists Man Gave Her Cash for Gay Life.

Winnipeg, Feb. 5.—[Special.]—Unruffled by an interview with Charles W. Haas, a private detective, who came here from Chicago to persuade her to waive extradition, Miss Rose Schweiburg tonight stuck to her denial that she had absconded with any of the money of her employers, the Biehl-Siferman company, and declared she would win out in her fight against being taken back to Chicago. She asserts that the lavish expenditures she made as "Monda Rose" were made possible by money given her by a man whose name the police have not yet divulged.

"We have evidence that the girl spent $25,000 of the firm's money up until the time she left the country," said Haas, who is accompanied by F. C. Biehl, her employer.

Suggests $50,000 Shortage.

"A shortage of more than $50,000 will be found when the audit is completed. A son of a Chicago packer has turned state's evidence and will be one of the witnesses against her. We will prove that she supported Harry Berger, a butcher, and other men."

"Her method of obtaining the money was simple. She had access to bank checks which she filled out, forged, and cashed. The stolen money by the company showed the amounts she should have drawn had been written over for several times the amount."

Has $1,700 Cash.

According to E. R. Levinson, the girl's attorney, she brought approximately $2,000 in cash and $7,000 worth of jewelry to Winnipeg. She deposited $1,700 in a bank here and placed the jewelry in a safety deposit box which she rented.

GREY'S LETTER MAY BRING OUT WILSON RETORT

Angered by "Butting In" of Briton.

stood from him that Great Britain is not insisting upon six votes in the league, but that its colonies are insisting upon individual votes, and to waive the six vote provision now would embarrass it with its colonies."

"Don't you think," Senator Hitchcock was asked, "that Great Britain would rather have the Johnson amendment giving the United States six votes, than the Lenroot reservation?"

"I do not think Great Britain cares how many votes we have, but it does object to disfranchising its colonies because that might create internal troubles."

"How do you regard the publication of the Grey letter in England?"

"It was an extraordinary thing for a British official to come out in the papers the way Lord Grey did. He did it for a purpose. It has the appearance of being done to placate British feeling against the United States. I do not consider it an act of discourtesy to this government."

Senator Hitchcock said that no matter what Viscount Grey or European government officials might say article 10 is America's affair.

"What has been the effect of Viscount Grey's letter?"

"I do not think the Grey letter will have a large effect. It may influence some men who have thought the treaty would be rejected by the allies if the Lodge program of reservations were adopted. I have never felt that either Great Britain or France would send a protest if the reservations could be left to acceptance by acquiescence."

HITCHCOCK ON JOB

Senator Hitchcock returned from Omaha today and set himself at once to the task of rallying the administration forces from the demoralizing influence of Grey's letter.

He immediately called a conference for Saturday of all the Democratic senators friendly to the treaty. The senator declared he felt sure a large majority of the Democratic senators would stand pat against the Lodge reservations.

It is not unlikely that the Democratic conference will receive a message from President Wilson reminding his followers that his opposition to the Lodge reservations has not been based primarily upon consideration of the attitude of Great Britain and France, but upon the damaging effect they would have, in his opinion, upon the effective operation of the league of nations.

"Impassable" Battle Plans.

The Republicans' "irreconcilables" held a meeting today and virtually decided that they would offer no opposition to calling up the treaty Monday if they could obtain adequate assurances that there would be no effort to restrict debate by application of the cloture rule. They will hold another meeting Saturday to complete their battle plans.

Several of the Republicans' "irreconcilables," notably Senator Sherman of Illinois and Senator Moses of New Hampshire were reported to be on the verge of agreeing to vote for ratification, provided there was no change whatsoever, even of phraseology, in the Lodge reservations.

PALMER AFTER PRESIDENCY, HE ADMITS IN CITY

Couples Declaration with Appeal to Labor.

The soft brimmed Stetson hat of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer set off the Democratic presidential ring in Chicago last night. It was shined with a quiet, personal declaration of future candidacy, well suited to an appeal to organized labor to stand by tried and true American principles as opposed to Red doctrine, and hardly audible above the roar of the old Union station, where the national prosecutor shook hands with Chicago friends while en route to Kansas City on party business.

"There is plenty of time for politics after we polish off the profiteers and the country of undesirable aliens," said the attorney general when pressed for his campaign statement. "I am not a good hat thrower, but my friends are becoming more insistent every day and there is no resisting them. The Democratic ring is singularly free of hats at this time, you will notice."

"We always have liked to see the race in the last quarter. I am willing to see the Republicans monopolize this opening field and leave the rest to my friends when the race is ripe."

"That is sufficiently clear reading for your friends, general," declared District Attorney C. E. Cline, grasping the hand of his Washington chief. "We have waited a long time for the word and now your friends will go to work."

War on Profiteers.
In addition to his admission of candidacy, long expected by the Democratic forces, the attorney general brought to Chicago the first complete report of his national fight against profiteers.

Since Oct. 22, 1919, the date the Lever food control act became effective, profiteer prosecutions have been started by the government in twenty-two states. Twenty-eight cases have resulted in court sentences for profiteering dealers, including eighteen in sugar, one in meat, one in flour, and eight in other branches of food sales.

Indictments to date total 683. Fifty are charged with profiteering in sugar, twenty in fuel, three in wearing apparel, and three in bacon, while more than 600 are charged with general gouging of the public.

Arrests in other cases, according to Mr. Palmer, total 184, and the prisoners will be prosecuted by every power at the hand of the department of justice.

Sees End of H. C. L.
"Profiteering is certainly on the decline," declared Mr. Palmer. "High prices caused by profiteering are beginning to tumble and the high cost of living, in so far as it is influenced by dealers seeking unjust and unreasonable profits, has reached its peak."

"We're going to press the prosecutions of profiteers until that evil is entirely wiped out of American commerce."

Owen for President, Is Slogan of Oklahomans
Muskogee, Okla., Feb. 5.—Forty delegates with half a vote each, were elected to the national Democratic convention at San Francisco, pledged to support Senator Robert L. Owen, of Oklahoma, for the Democratic presidential nomination, "until he is either nominated or releases them from support," at the state Democratic convention which adjourned here tonight.

The convention adopted a resolution taking Gov. J. B. A. Roberts on to call a special session of the legislature to ratify the woman suffrage constitutional amendment.

The administration of President Wilson and Governor Robertson were informed.

LOWDEN FOF OF FARM TENANCY; 'OWN YOUR OWN'

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 5.—Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois was the principal speaker tonight at the Farmers' week and Housewives' congress in the Michigan Agricultural college gymnasium at East Lansing.

After discussing present conditions in Illinois Gov. Lowden said: "One of the things in this country which is depressing at the present time is the increase in farm tenancy. It is not a wholesome sign, and our agriculture will fail unless we devise means by which the young man with brains and muscle can go to farming with a reasonable expectation that he shall some day own his own farm."

"I am a great believer—and more and more as our country resumes normal conditions—in land banks."

WALKS OUT WITH $100,000 IN GOLD
IN HOLLOW LEG

Denver, Colo., Feb. 5.—Orville Harrington, 41, skilled worker in the Denver mint, was arrested early today by Roland K. Goddard, chief of the local branch of the federal secret service, on a charge of having robbed the Denver mint of gold bullion valued at more than $100,000.

A search of Harrington's home revealed the gold bars buried and hidden in various parts of the premises, and all of it was recovered, according to Goddard.

Harrington, according to the officers, carried the bars out of the mint concealed in a hollow false leg which he wore. Harrington was arrested as he was leaving the mint after work and a search of his person disclosed a $1,400 bar of gold hidden in the false leg.

WALSH AFTER WILSON SCALP IN BAY STATE

Boston, Mass., Feb. 5.—United States Senator David I. Walsh has declared himself firmly for President Wilson's scalp. He has decided to ask the Democrats of Massachusetts for a vote of confidence in his record in selecting delegates for the national convention in San Francisco next June.

It was what was expected after his remarks at the Tremont temple mass meeting last night during the anti-league of nations rally and his talk to Democratic members of the legislature earlier in the day at the City club.

He spent the day in seclusion in his headquarters in the Hotel Lenox, denying himself to newspaper men and even refusing to discuss his presidential boom over the telephone. He did, however, confer with several party leaders.

RAILROAD BILL
SEEMS STEAMING
UP IN CONGRESS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—(Special.)—Prospects of approval of the conference report on the railroad bill by both houses of congress appeared bright today. There is an evident disposition to enact railroad legislation before March 1 and to sacrifice individual desires to a considerable extent.

That organized labor cannot count upon the support of many members of the house who helped to modify the Enoch bill to suit labor became apparent.

The "voluntary arbitration" amendment added on the floor of the house was known as the Anderson-Sweet amendment, but both Representative Anderson and Representative Sweet are expected to support the conference report.

BRUNDAGE AND DENEEN FORCES ARRANGE TREATY

To Work Together in the Town of Lake.

Real harmony—the practical variety—has been established between the Deneen and Brundage Republican factions in the Thirty-second ward, and an agreement is imminent between the two elements in each of the four wards in the town of Lake—the Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, Thirty-first, and Thirty-second.

News of the peace treaty, which may be the advance agent of harmony all through the city, came to the political surface about the time that Mayor Thompson let it be known officially that he personally favors a triple agreement that can obviate bitter fights at the April 13 primary for ward committeemen and delegates to the national convention delegates. The mayor informed the county committee's peacekeepers that he will be prepared to talk definite terms following the filing of candidates for ward committeemen, set by law for next Friday.

To Fight City Hall.
The town of Lake territory adjusted the differences between the Brundage and Deneen wings, however, on the theory that the combined forces will go to bat to defeat the city hall slate for committeemen and delegates in April, and that the combination will remain intact during the state and county primary contests in September.

The agreement in the Thirty-second or Englewood ward is that Charles A. Williams, present committeeman, allied with the Brundage faction, retires from the committee. The Williams and Vail forces have united behind Julius A. Johnson, former county attorney, who will be the allied candidate against former Ald. James Rea, now purchasing agent at the city hall.

Congressman William W. Wilson and Assessor William H. Weber are to be the candidates of the allies for national convention delegates, pledged to support Gov. Lowden for president. The city hall candidates are Judge Anton Zeman and Elliott W. Sproul.

Deneen May Be Candidate.
The allied candidate in the Thirty-first ward—former Gov. Deneen's home—will be chosen at once. It may be the former governor himself, although this is improbable, and it may be James A. Kearns, clerk of the Municipal court, or a new man, may be taken up. Final conferences will be held today and tomorrow. This candidate will be pitted against Dr. William H. Reid, commissioner of public service at the city hall, present ward committeeman.

Thomas J. Healy, now committeeman from the Thirtieth ward, is to have the joint support of the two factions against the city hall entry, James W. Brown, now assistant corporation counsel.

In the Twenty-ninth ward the allied forces will support Leonard Reid against Ernest Withall, member of the board of local improvements by appointment of Mayor Thompson.

POLITICAL NOTES

Next Friday is the first day for filing petitions for ward committeemen in Chicago, and for delegates and alternates to the national conventions all over the state. In Chicago the candidates file with County Clerk Switzer. All of the Democratic organization petitions are ready and Republican petitions are in circulation in all of the wards and congressional districts.

Wood headquarters gave out a cable message from Havana, Cuba, from Edwin Wildman, editor of the Forum magazine, that said: "If Cuba could cast its vote for Gen. Wood for its highest office it would name him. The work done by Wood as governor has made him the idol and demigod of peasant and priest, planter and business men of every race and creed."

John F. Devine, clerk of the Probate court, has announced his candidacy for Republican ward committeeman in the Thirty-third ward. The city hall is backing George Hittman, the Thompson faction's candidate for sheriff at the last primary.

Mrs. Fletcher Dwyer, manager of the woman's division of the London for president campaign organization, will open headquarters today at the Congress hotel adjacent to the general committee headquarters.

Charles G. Rogers of Washington, assistant supervisor of internal revenue offices, and Julius F. Smetanka, former collector of internal revenues, will be speakers today at the Iroquois club luncheon.

That the state of Michigan will give a four to one majority for Gen. Leonard Wood at the direct primary was the forecast yesterday of State Senator Alton T. Roberts of Marquette, made at the Wood headquarters.

Lester Hanson, filed by the Labor party as a candidate for alderman in the Thirty-fifth ward, died Wednesday at the county hospital as a result of the flu contracted while campaigning. He leaves a wife and five children, the sixth having died two days before of pneumonia. The Thirty-fifth ward Labor party is giving an entertainment tomorrow night at headquarters, 1234 North Crawford avenue. The proceeds, intended originally to raise a campaign fund, will be turned over to Mr. Hanson's widow.

The Twenty-first ward regular Republican organization has issued invitations for a Valentine's day ball to be given at the crystal ballroom, Parkway hotel, Garfield avenue and Lincoln Park West, on the evening of Feb. 14. Ald. Earl J. Walker, candidate for reelection, and James F. Burns, candidate for ward committeeman, are to be guests of honor.

The Thirteenth ward John G. Horne nonpartisan organization has been formed with County Clerk Robert M. Switzer, chairman, and William F. Kramer secretary. Mr. Kramer was Ald. Horne's Republican rival two years ago.

Senators Favor Ending Control of Wheat Price

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—A favorable report on Senator Gronna's bill, repealing the wartime wheat price control measure, was ordered by unanimous vote today by the senate agriculture committee. As the bill stands, it requires the United States Grain corporation to wind up its business, pay into the treasury its profits, estimated at approximately $50,000,000, and report fully to congress.

Why Have Your Shirts Made To Order?

Hosts of men who formerly were content to wear ready-made shirts are now having them made to order—Why?

Some have argued that inasmuch as a good ready-made shirt costs as much as a custom-made shirt, why not have them made to order from one's own choice of material and exclusive pattern? Others who have always thought they would like to be able to afford custom shirts now find that these are the most economical as well as the most comfortable and satisfactory, after all. There might have been some ground for the idea of extravagance years ago, but times and conditions have changed, and men now order shirts to their liking for

60 inch size,
$94, regular price $140

The first semi-annual sales of furniture held in Chicago were inaugurated by the Tobey store over thirty years ago.

The high plane on which they were conducted; the genuineness of the savings; and the quality of the furniture included have led Chicago buyers to believe in the furniture sale.

The sale this season offers the same real savings in the face of a furniture shortage; and Tobey quality always, whether prices are high or low.

With prices climbing steadily, you will find these sale economies more important than ever before. We invite you to visit our beautiful displays and take note of the price reductions.

Nearly our entire stock is reduced in price and hundreds of pieces are radically marked down.

THE ECONOMIC STRENGTH OF AMERICA.

The dizzy drop of foreign exchange and the accompanying sharp recession on the stock exchange have provided for us an interesting drama of the inevitable.

Wise men have foreseen it. It is not a pleasant event. But conditions being what they are, it is by no means an unwholesome experience, and a moderate degree of good sense will turn it into a blessing.

The most desirable thing at this moment is confidence—confidence in the enormous strength and resources of this country. It is not necessary to look with alarm upon the parachute drop of foreign exchange or to worry over the painful surgical operation that has begun on the unhealthy body of European finance.

We are not free from the consequences of the war and the peace which followed it. We have had a good share in the mistakes which are to be paid for. But our share will be comparatively small, and we are at the threshold of better conditions. There is no reason for fear of the American situation. In this vast continent, unscarred by war, our resources are as yet half developed. Our reserves of natural wealth are enormous. Our opportunities are, we might almost say, unlimited. A vast continent occupied by a hundred and ten millions of the most intelligent and energetic people on earth, creating thirty, or forty, or fifty billions of new values each year, is a Gibraltar of strength—a vast, dynamic of creative power.

It is well to think of this now, not to encourage us to continue extravagance and repeat the mistakes we see that Europe is paying for, but to inspire us to face our own problems with calm good sense and cheerful confidence.

The American who gets flustered or panic-stricken because the law of cause and effect is operating in Europe with a drastic logic is both weak and foolish. Americans have no reason to fear the present or the future if they will think of the unshaken rock on which we stand and go quietly to develop the resources and opportunities before them.

Europe after five years of insane destruction, aggravated by the blind and self-destructive revenge of this unhappy false peace, by foolish self-indulgence, by weak postponement of corrective restraints, cannot escape a terrible payment. To what extent we can help no man can now predict. But we, too, have been foolish. We have indulged in extravagance. We have permitted inflation when we should have been conserving our financial strength and directing our resources into the most productive channels. We shall have to pay for this, but if we show good sense we can pay without suffering, we can get easily and quickly on better ground, and we can go forward confidently to a healthier and more lasting prosperity.

We need to check our careless spending and our uncareful expansions, and we shall check them. But fortunately for us and for the world we are able to readjust gradually and without serious sacrifices. The violent disturbances in Europe, we believe, are preliminary to a sounder condition there. They are necessary. The really constructive work will begin when this experience is over, and we shall be ready to help and profit by the revival. But meanwhile we have our own great resources of wealth and energy to keep us busy. If Europe is temporarily shut off, we have South America and the vast eastern field to take advantage of, and our own needs to fill. Confidence, sane optimism, self-restraint, and industry will make our future certain.

RENT PROTECTORING.

Both public spirit and intelligent self-interest are exhibited in the Chicago real estate board's effort to check rent profiteering.

Advance of rents could not be prevented because there is a real scarcity value owing to the growth of our population and the long stoppage of building during wartime prohibitions and the building trades strike. But that is no reason for sudden and excessive advances, unadvised extortion. These are the result of greed and their effect upon the city and upon real estate in the city is unquestionably bad.

The general rent advance may show some real social benefits by forcing the development of new outside property and a desirable resort to suburban life and home buying. But unjust and violent raises not only add to a mood of discontent and even embitterment already too much in evidence as a result of wartime disorganization but, when submitted to, create an abnormal rent level from which there must be a reaction. These extortions are unhealthy for all concerned and we are glad associated realty interests are to bring pressure against them.

A CHANCE FOR RAIL RESUMPTION.

There should be a general disposition against prejudging the effect of the return of the railroads to their owners. The lines ought to have a fair opportunity to work out acceptable service to the public.

Adoption of the Cummins-Esch bill can hardly escape opposition. But adoption of such a measure as the Plumb plan would arouse strong opposition. Adoption of the original Cummins bill would have caused resentment. There may be doubtful features in the Cummins-Esch bill. It is extremely doubtful if any bill could escape all objection. In view of all possible doubts and all the proffered legislation it ought to be the part of wisdom for the nation to accept the compromise combining the most desirable features of all proposals and eliminating the most objectionable.

The amount of time and investigation devoted by congress to railroad legislation should make it apparent that the Cummins-Esch bill is the result of our best thought on the subject. "Surely nothing has been left uninvestigated. No plan but has been given careful consideration."

There must be some plan. The Cummins-Esch plan may not be the best. But it is the best that congress has been able to agree upon. It ought to receive the just consideration of all the classes of population most directly interested in transportation.

Restoration may be slow. The public accepted without a grudge the lamentable service through the war and after. It can afford to be patient yet a while.

HANG THE KILLERS.

Chief Garrity says "there's likely to be ten killings before we get the man who murdered 'Moss'." If there are ten killings there should be ten hangings; at least ten hangings.

There is almost a sigh of relief in the chief's attitude as he speaks further: "The labor gangs settle their own disputes in their own way."

They should be compelled to quit settling their own disputes in their own way. They should settle their disputes as all other persons settle disputes. The community is trying to sustain a form of justice. Justice insists upon equality. Justice is the only safeguard of the mass. If the killers are permitted to ignore justice the life of every member of the community is only as substantial as the whim of the gunman.

Doubtless many good citizens are disposed to think, "good riddance; as long as they kill each other who cares?" But why do they kill each other? It is because a clash of interests has arisen. When decent citizens differ seriously they apply to the courts. When the killers differ they shoot. But may we be assured that killers should always differ only among themselves? Or is there a reasonable presumption that presently a killer may differ from a chief of police or a state's attorney or a prominent business man?

Having established a precedent of enforcing his opinions with bullets, shall the gunman draw a line separating those properly his victims from those properly immune?

The further the analysis is extended the more absurd it becomes. The statement that "there's likely to be more killings" comes perilously near to an acknowledgment that murder has some privileges. The complacent comment that "labor gangs settle their own disputes" is too great a concession to be seriously considered in a civilized community.

A couple of years ago a detective engaged in Black Hand investigations made the prophecy that fifteen or twenty persons would be killed in the Italian district "in the next six months." He was a modest prophet. More than twenty-five were killed.

The attitude toward the Little Italy district has been that toward labor shootings. "So long as they kill each other who cares?" But in the use of the saved off shotgun we begin to perceive a process of expansion. The killers of Little Italy are emerging. Their heretofore purely social homicide is being capitalized. The sinister struggle pushes aside the automatic of the conventional slinger.

If it isn't stopped there is every reason for expecting that the shotgun shall appear in sober counting rooms. A banker who refuses a loan may become a bullet riddled example to other bankers. A merchant who refuses credit may invite quick death. A newspaper that dares hamper the will of the murderer becomes a target. The policeman who refuses to assist in a murderous enterprise stalks with death.

The gunmen must be cleaned out. The answer to murder is a killer at the end of a rope. The public is sick of sympathy for strutting murderers. The public demands protection.

ILLINOIS REGULAR REGIMENTS.

The plan to give a local status to regular army regiments is an excellent one and has been urged by THE TRIBUNE for a number of years. It is clear that boys would rather go into an "outfit" from their own locality, in which chums can travel together and the home folks know that their boys are among friends and neighbors.

It also will add to the esprit of a regiment to have a home in the sense of drawing its men from the same state. If the 51st regiment of infantry is known as an Illinois "outfit" it will have not only its national esprit but its local pride.

The British and the Germans have both localized their regiments and the most famous fighting units have special names, the Gordon Highlanders, the Welsh Fusiliers, the London Scottish, the Black Watch, the Coldstream Guards, and famous regiments from the various shrines.

We ought to take advantage of this natural local pride, which will not only increase the morale of the regiments, but also arouse local pride and interest communities in the units drawn from their neighborhood or state.

The regular regiments which will be recruited from Illinois and be known as Illinois regiments are the 51st, 52d, 53d, and 54th infantry, the 308th engineers, the 33d field artillery, the 59th coast artillery, and the 16th cavalry. Let's remember them, and as Illinois boys enlist in them take pride in the thought that they will represent us well in peace or war.

Editorial of the Day

POWER FARMING.

[Chicago Journal.]

For the heavy work of a farm the value of the tractor is no longer in dispute. Even men who for various reasons do not use it concede its effectiveness. The tractor is a superplowman. It enables the farmer to break his ground deeper than he could with horses and to plow in the heat of the summer—the last a very important factor in the raising of wheat. In emergency, if there is enough human help to be had, he can keep the plows going twenty-four hours in the day. At harvesting, too, the mechanical draft horse is a crop saver of the finest sort.

With feed at the prices named a horse must be a good worker to earn his keep. The engine, which eats only when it is working, is clearly the cheaper help. It is to be hoped manufacturers will not take advantage of this condition to relax their efforts at perfecting their machinery. At least half the horses and mules of America should be replaced by mechanical power, but the change will be delayed and fall short of producing its full measure of benefit unless the replacing machines are brought to the highest pitch of usefulness.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

IN 1896 we were writing anti-silver editorials for the iniquitous gold press. We knew no more about finance than Charlie Towne or Bill Bryan. But seemingly we were not much worse off than the giant intellects who are unable to straighten out the international money market.

THE Trib believes in hanging a few murderers to encourage the others; and so do we. We will adventure further. We believe that Germany would be greatly encouraged by the hanging of Hindenburg and the Kaiser.

At Last a Cure for the Flu.

Mrs. Weiss was near death from influenza. Dr. Parker said he had given up all hope of saving her when she gave birth to twins. Since that time she has steadily improved.

THE last earthquake was so terrific, so fraught with awesome possibilities, we thought there would be a follow-up story on it; but it seems not to have raised a ripple of interest.

AN ANCIENT LAY.

Sir: A news item mentions the death of Eustasia Pallard, a black Spanish hen, aged 32, said to be the oldest hen in the United States, as announced by the owner, James Blanchard, of Dayville, Conn. Eustasia laid her first egg back in '89. I think I had it this morning.

MUCH of the confusion in Germany is due to the fact that the government is bound by the terms of the peace treaty to deliver the men wanted. But as Herr Lersner remarked to Herr Noake, "Ach, what is a peace treaty between friends?"

Sir: Imagine my wrath at learning this morning, after being—according to my wife—desperately ill for three days, that Laird MacKenzie was quoting the words of the late, only, I wonder if the world-famous remark regarding the use of this planet as an insane asylum for the inhabitants of the other spheres. When I took his Lairdship to task, he replied stubbornly: "Well, Voltaire used to twister Shakespeare, and he said some of my predecessors have used my ideas."

This reply mollified me until I discovered that Mollie said exactly the same thing regarding some of his jokes. I am reminded that a disgruntled officer once stated that Geo. M. Cohan stole all his humor from the Civil War.

Is there nothing new under the sun after all? Is Wilson only a slighter edition of Ethelred the Unready? D'Annunzio another Tyranny; Viscount Grey another Machiavelli; Germany another Carthage; England the breeder of traitors, or on the other hand, the savior of the world with the war-like tribes of Latium, who fought the Romans stubbornly and hopelessly, and ourselves to Carthage, is not more fitting. In Carthage, you will recollect, Hannibal begged and begged for troops and supplies. In this readiness of the eyes and a dry throat were so prominent in the early stages that a diagnosis of oncoming measles was occasionally made. Sore throat was uncommon. The pulse is generally slower and softer in influenza than in common cold.

Finger-bowls are provided for the purpose of cleansing the fingers at the close of a meal or after eating fruit. They are placed on the fruit plate for the breakfast course, or on the dessert plate at dinner. Lift the bowl from the plate and set it in front of you, slightly to the right. To use, dip the tips of the fingers into the bowl, which should be partly filled with water, and wipe them on the napkin. It is also permissible to moisten the extreme corner of the napkin in the finger-bowl and pass this corner lightly over the lips.

COLDS AND THE FLU.

THIS is the season for colds and influenza. It is likewise the season for pneumonia. The symptoms of this group of diseases are very much the same. A cold begins with a feeling of rawness in the nose. In a short time this is followed by a profuse watery discharge from the nose which comes on coincident with general aching and feverishness.

Headache is not prominent in this aching. The nose secretion changes from a clear watery to a thick yellow pus. The infection travels from the nose to the bronchial tubes, generally skipping the throat. The cough, at first dry and irritating, becomes productive, the first sputum being purulent. The fever lasts two or three days and then subsides.

The symptoms of influenza, according to Dr. E. A. Bates, are sudden onset, sneezing, redness of the eyes, cough, blueness of the nails and lips, fever, chills and aches. The patient has a fever lasting more than five days indicates pneumonia. The pulse is slow.

The pneumonia following influenza starts somewhat differently from ordinary pneumonia. It does not begin with chills and fever, but with a cough. On the other hand the disease comes on quietly with some rise in temperature, some increase in rate of breathing and some blood in the sputum.

Dr. E. A. Bates gives the symptoms of influenza as sudden onset, sneezing, prostration, fever, infected eyes. The difference between the symptoms of ordinary cold and influenza are these: 1. A cold observer will notice that a cold generally begins gradually. 2. Although the term is used and frequently employed when it does not state a fact, there is such a condition as "catching cold," indicating a period of twelve to twenty-four hours during which the only symptom is a dryness and irritation in the nose or a slight watery discharge. Of course, in this period the cold is already caught and is incubating.

Influenza sometimes comes with lightning suddenness. Prostration is much greater in influenza. Pain in the back and legs was very prominent in the epidemic of 1889 but not that of 1918. Soper says nose discharge was not a symptom of influenza in four army camps of 1918. Redness of the eyes is rarely present in a common cold. It is frequently an early symptom of influenza. In his readiness of the eyes and a dry throat were so prominent in the early stages that a diagnosis of oncoming measles was occasionally made. Sore throat was uncommon. The pulse is generally slower and softer in influenza than in common cold.

If a blood count is made, the leucocyte count is low in influenza, except after pneumonia has come on. In the early stages of the 1918 epidemic hemorrhage from the nose or bowels was not infrequent.

Everybody, physicians and laymen, knows that the symptoms of influenza are: 1. Cough. 2. Sneezing. 3. Runny nose. 4. Sore throat. 5. Fever. 6. Prostration. 7. Headache. 8. Aching. 9. Redness of the eyes. 10. Watery discharge from the nose. 11. Thick yellow pus. 12. Blood in the sputum. 13. Dry cough. 14. Productive cough. 15. Purulent sputum. 16. Slow pulse. 17. Rapid breathing. 18. Increase in temperature. 19. Increase in rate of breathing. 20. Blood in the sputum.

1. The proportion of chlorine used is so small that I cannot see how it can contribute to the result. 2. You can precipitate chlorine with nitrate of silver solution, but that you are not justifying the addition of a very small quantity of thiocyanate of soda solution, ordinarily called hypochlorite. 3. I think the results are due to too little moisture in the air, too much washing, and too little grease in the skin. Clean the hands with soap and water, then apply a little grease occasionally.

THE FRIEND OF THE SOLDIER.

TWO BILLS TO REWARD SOLDIERS.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—(Editor of THE TRIBUNE.)—The war would get a world war veteran bond, worth $1, for every day of service, and bearing interest at 4% per cent, under a bill introduced today by Representative Osborn of Michigan. The bill would be limited to $1,000,000.

A joint resolution giving honorably discharged service men a preference right in obtaining land under the act of March 3, 1917, was introduced by the senate. It now goes to the president.

JOB BUREAU WILL CLOSE MARCH 31.

The bureau for returning soldiers, sailors and marines, which secured 41,588 jobs for returned war heroes, will be closed March 31, after one year's service. This announcement was made yesterday.

The bureau has secured jobs for soldiers, rendered aid in getting their allotments, bonuses, insurance and back pay, and given lodgings and clothing to needy veterans. It was organized last March under the direction and supervision of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood and an executive committee, whose members represented the War Camp Community Service, United States employment bureau, Chicago Women's club, Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus, Jewish Welfare board, Chicago Association of Commerce, and other organizations.

COUNCIL BALKS AT IMMEDIATE O. K. FOR I. AND R.

Police Question Put Over
Until After Election.

Supporters of the I. and R. failed yesterday in an attempt to put the city council on record in favor of making the proposition a part of the new state constitution.

Fifteen aldermen voted against a motion to suspend the rules for immediate adoption of Ald. John Richter's resolution. The fifteen votes were enough to send the resolution to the special committee on constitutional revision proposals, which meets today. Forty-eight votes were recorded in favor of immediate action, but fifty-six were necessary to suspend the rules.

Ald. Lyle Leads Antis.

Ald. John H. Lyle led the move to send the resolution to the special committee, which he is chairman.

The council is already on record in favor of three distinct propositions—some rule for public utilities, in city finances, and in organization—and to step into the I. and R. fight in the convention would injure our chances to get some rule for Chicago," Ald. Lyle said.

"This is not a proposition for the council to hesitate about, for the people we represent are on record in favor of the I. and R.," Ald. Schwartz said.

The council, by a vote of 40 to 25, backed away from the police reorganization problem, declining to put off consideration of both Chief Garritty's and Ald. Guernsey's police ordinances for three weeks.

For the city administration, Ald. Louis B. Anderson attempted to force immediate consideration, but the sentiment in favor of putting off the unpopular problem until after the February election was too strong.

"Put It Up to Chief."

"Let's take the chief at his word, give him all the power he wants, and then hold him responsible," Ald. Anderson said. "If he doesn't make good, he should resign his commission."

"I favor repealing the present ordinance and am against passing another," Ald. Toman said. "Let's wait the chief's hands and then if he doesn't make good, fire him."

Ald. Lyle served notice he would oppose both the Guernsey and the Garritty plans. When the question comes up again, he said, he will introduce an ordinance creating three police commissioners, one to be appointed by the council and two by the mayor.

The council deferred action for one week on the building committee's recommendation that the mayor appoint a joint commission of twenty-two members to divide the city into industrial and residential zones.

I. C. Improvement Pushed.

By passing the financial amendment to the Illinois Central electrification bill, the council believes it has removed the last bar to its acceptance by all parties concerned—the government, the railroad, the city, and the south park board.

"This amendment will keep the expense of the improvement from interfering with the railroad paying dividends," Ald. Lyle said.

Gov. Allen to Be Lincoln Day Speaker in Chicago

Gov. Henry J. Allen of Kansas is to be the guest of the Chicago Bar association and the speaker at its Lincoln day dinner at the Congress hotel on the evening of Feb. 12. The governor's subject will be the industrial legislation enacted at the recent special session of the Kansas legislature. Gov. Frank O. Lowden, Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, and the judges of the United States courts of this district also will be guests of the association.

DON'T LIKE HER

Parents of Youthful Grandson of J. P. Morgan Object to 34 Year Old Widow He Married.

Mrs. Laurens Morgan Hamilton.

(Photo from Underwood & Underwood.)

New York, Feb. 5.—[Special.]—Lieut. Laurens Morgan Hamilton and the bride whom he married last week despite his parents' opposition are supposed to be at the Hotel Vanderbilt. Their visit, if they really are here, is presumably to obtain the forgiveness of Mr. and Mrs. William Pierson Hamilton of this city, who are said to have objected to the marriage because they mistakenly identified her with another woman.

Young Hamilton, who is a grandson of the late J. P. Morgan and who is only 19, was married last week in Boston to Mrs. Gertrude Warren, who is said to be 32 years old and to have been married twice before.

When a younger woman was awarded a beauty prize in St. Louis, where she lived at that time, when Lieut. Hamilton learned of his parents' displeasure he is said to have remarked that he intended to make his way independently of his family and in the choosing of a bride he was going to follow his own desire.

Lieut. Hamilton until his discharge was a member of Gen. Edwards' staff in Boston.

He asked, "Will it not?" Ald. Woodhull asked.

Ald. Lipps, chairman of the railway terminals committee, admitted it would have that tendency.

The council passed Ald. Govier's resolution that Feb. 8 to Feb. 14, the tenth anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scout movement, be observed as "Good Turn week." The council strongly recommends that "during that period, at least, every one adopt the Boy Scout habit of doing a good turn to some one each day."

AIM AT CHICAGO'S REPRESENTATION IN LEGISLATURE

Downstaters in Convention Reveal Plans.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—According to the 1910 census, Cook county contained more than 41 per cent of the population of the state. Last year it contributed 44 per cent of the state's income from taxes. It is at present obligated to share a larger percentage of the cost of the $37,000,000 road program now starting. It will be equally liberal in paying the cost of the $20,000,000 waterway. It has been common report for years that Cook county gives more to the schools of the state than the state gives to Cook county.

Yet downstate delegates to the constitutional convention appear to desire to limit Chicago's representation in the general assembly. Most of the proposals presented have the ultimate effect of actually reducing Chicago's representation. These delegates are not content to prevent Cook county from getting a majority in the legislature.

Morton D. Hull's Plan.

Morton D. Hull of Chicago thinks that a downstate plan is on foot to "crucify" Cook county with rusty nails. Therefore he proposed in the convention this morning that "the general taxes assessed for state purposes in such county shall be equalized and decreased in like proportion to such limitation in the representation of said county in the general assembly."

He urges this plan "to prevent taxation without representation." He would apply his plan if there is a limitation "either by the constitution or by a failure of the general assembly to make the decennial reapportionment."

Cook county representation has been limited already by the refusal of the downstate majority in the legislature to reapportion the state in 1910. Because of that failure also Chicago is now cheated out of its full face representation in the constitutional convention.

If Cook county were represented in proportion to its population it would admittedly have four more delegates and probably six.

Making a Comparison.

One of the proposals to reduce Cook county's representation in the general assembly comes from Cleo J. Lindly of Bond county. The value of property in Cook county for taxing purposes is 193 times as large as in Bond county. The value of property in Bond for tax published report is $5,944,636. If the Hull plan is adopted the Bond county valuation should be increased to $7,133,563, or approximately 20 per cent, even if the expense of government is not increased $1.

That assumption, however, is almost impossible. Governmental costs will be increased and the Hull plan provides for adding on the 20 per cent after all the increases are made. Therefore the question is whether the property owners of Bond and like counties desire to increase their taxes 20 per cent for the privilege of getting a representative in the legislature who may help his constituency at times and injure them at others.

Bureau of Efficiency Plan.

Walter H. Wilson of Chicago presented the plan for consolidation of public efficiency. This delegate is convinced that a large amount of money can be saved annually if this idea is adopted.

Rollo Six of Barry presented a plan to prevent slackers from evading the army. It provides that conscientious objectors can be assigned to noncombatant jobs.

DIXIE IN ARMS AGAINST CITIZEN ARMY MEASURE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—Southern Democrats have launched a movement to put the members of the party in the house on record against universal military training. A caucus of house Democrats has been called for next Monday.

Representative Kitchen of North Carolina expressed the belief that three-fourths of the Democrats in the house are against the proposition. He is anxious that the party should take a stand against it.

Representative Dent of Alabama, former chairman of the committee on military affairs and now its ranking minority member, is one of the most active in opposition to universal military training.

While the twenty members of the committee have been understood to be equally divided on the proposition, both sides are making efforts to change the votes of doubtful members. The Democratic caucus is one move in that direction.

BIG TIM MURPHY MYSTIFIED OVER ENRIGHT DEATH

Mourns His Slain Friend;
Tells Alibi Story.

"Big Tim" Murphy, former assistant sergeant-at-arms of the United States senate and present leader of the gas house workers, sat in his home last night for two hours and talked about the slaying of "Mose" Enright, his boyhood friend and later his companion in labor organization work.

He told of his arrest in connection with the killing, of the ceaseless strife between labor factions and of the labor organizer's work and problems—and he gave a minute account of his actions on the day Enright was shot to death with a saved-off shotgun.

Big Tim's Own Story.
After telling of a gas house workers' arbitration meeting in Attorney J. J. Kern's office, which lasted from 1 until about 4:30 or 5 o'clock on the day Enright was shot, he said:

"I went into Henrich's, as I do many times, to buy some coffee cake for breakfast. There I saw Thomas P. Kelly and another tall, red headed man who I think is a partner of Kelly in the real estate business.

"We talked for fifteen minutes or more.

"Then Jack and I went to a Greek store on Randolph street, near State, where we often buy vegetables. We were in that store about fifteen minutes.

"Then I went west on Randolph street to the elevated and caught a train south. I got off at Fifty-first street, took a surface car to Halsted, and walked a block and a half to my home. My brother was with me.

"That was about 6:15 o'clock.

"When I arrived home dinner was ready. My brother-in-law and father-in-law were there. We ate.

Hears of Enright Death.

"Later I went downstairs in my shirt sleeves to have a talk with the owner of the building. It was about 7:30 when I went back upstairs. As I was leaving, a neighbor came with the word that Enright had been shot, but I didn't know then he had been killed.

"About 7:45 my brother Billy and myself left to attend the wake of a member of the gas house union. It was supposed to be at Racine and Center streets, but we couldn't find the place.

"I called up my wife to ask the address. She told me a couple of policemen had been looking for me in connection with the Enright killing. That was the first word I had heard to the effect Mose was dead."

He then told of his voluntary surrender to George T. Kenney, Mr. Hoynes' secretary, of being questioned and released.

Denies Any Enmity.

"Regarding Enright, there was no enmity between us, we were friends. The report Enright brought an auditor of the American federation of labor here to look over the books of my organization and others is untrue. The auditor makes regular trips here and the trip in question was one of them—Enright had nothing to do with it.

"Another thing—reported telephone conversations in which I am alleged to have expressed enmity for Enright are pure bunk.

Gets Tip Police Want Him.

"I haven't heard a thing which might give an inkling as to who killed Enright. There was no union squabble that I know about in which Mose could have been implicated. This proposition—just a minute—"

The telephone jangled a summons. "This is Tim —, Police want me? Well, I'm here, and they can get me any time they want to. Thanks for the tip, though."

"Dya know," he remarked, "that's what having friends means. I don't believe in enmity. If I want to punch a man in the nose I'll do it myself—then shake hands with him after we've fought it out."

sired to make formal statements, but when the attorney, who asked that his name be withheld, sought to obtain further information, Enright and his companions temporized, and eventually left the office, having imparted little.

From the underworld, early in the day, came Tom Fusco, formerly a bartender in a saloon at Twenty-second street and Wabash avenue—now a gambler and "tough guy"—to make air tight Carozzo's alibi.

Fusco was able to detail, in a fashion that dovetailed into Carozzo's own story with gearlike precision, exactly why "it would have been impossible" for the street sweepers' chief to have been one of the two men who drove in a motor car to Enright's residence at 1110 Garfield boulevard Tuesday night and shot him to death.

Gives Alibi in Detail.

Fusco remembered that he and Carozzo had left the latter's office at 128 North La Salle street at about 5:30 o'clock; he remembered the precise articles he and the labor man had purchased in a fruit store on Randolph street, between State and Dearborn; he was able to tell the street car they had boarded to reach Carozzo's apartment, 204 East Twenty-second street, an hour later.

The witness was released—to be shadowed by detectives from State's Attorney Hoynes' staff. Carozzo was kept in custody, notwithstanding that his counsel, Stephen A. Malato, applied for a writ of habeas corpus to Judge Oscar Hebel in the Criminal court. The hearing was set for 10 o'clock this morning.

Carozzo, when reporters saw him later, did not appear entirely displeased with the prospect of remaining in jail another twenty-four hours; for two women, one of whom he had declared to be his sister, had assured Mr. Prystalski that they were his wives.

The first was Mrs. Mary Carozzo of the Twenty-second street address, who served Fusco and the labor leader with supper on the night of the murder. She had confided to the prosecutor that the two men reached the flat at about 7 o'clock—half an hour after the time designated in the alibi—when Mrs. Helen Carozzo, who occupied an apartment with the street sweepers' chief in the Bangor hotel, 1802 South Michigan avenue, was ushered in.

Both Claim to Be Wives.

"I suppose," remarked Mr. Prystalski, aski, turning to the first Mrs. Carozzo, "that, as Mike's sister, you have met his wife?"

"Wife!" exclaimed Mrs. Mary Carozzo. "I am his wife!"

"It is a lie!" declared Mrs. Helen Carozzo evenly. "We were married in Crown Point, Ind., eight months ago."

"And I was married to him," rejoined Mrs. Mary Carozzo, "in the County building eight years ago."

Carozzo defied either to produce a marriage certificate, but admitted having consorted with both.

At the instance of a mysterious "voice on the phone," George Goodman, formerly a guard at the county jail, now a chauffeur for Morris & Co., packers, was arrested at his residence, 5218 Morgan street, by Detective Sergeants Farrell, McFarland, and Fee of the detective bureau.

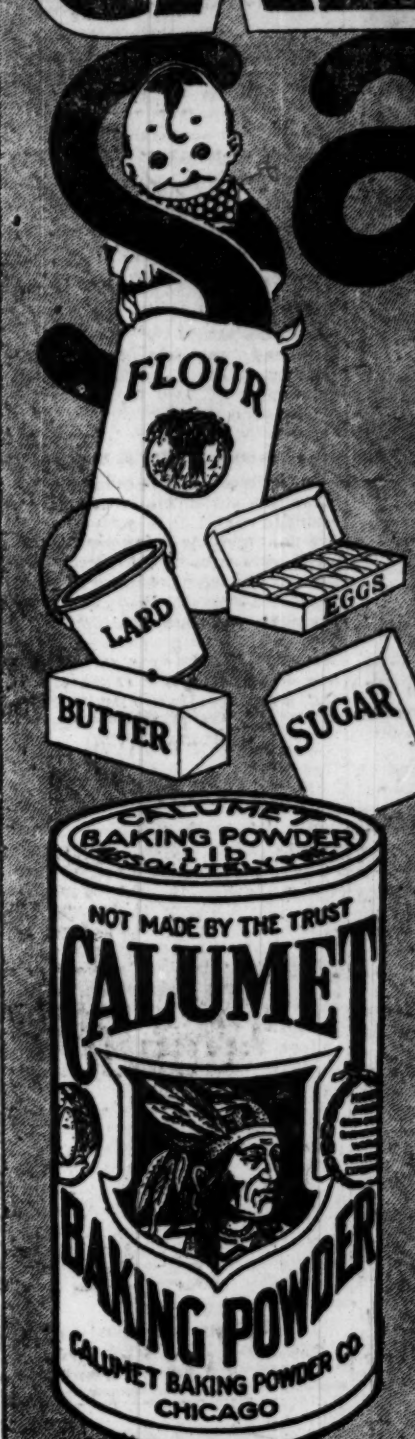

The state's attorney's informant said that Goodman, who resigned his job at the county prison rather than place his friend, "Jimmy" O'Brien, alleged slayer, in solitary confinement for an infraction of the rules, would be able to explain the Enright killing.

SIGN PARADES
BEFORE JURY IN NEWBERRY TRIAL

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 5.—Dollars were the main topic of the Newberry election conspiracy trial today. Beginning with the testimony of Allan K. Newberry, a defendant who pleaded "no contest" and continuing up to afternoon late this afternoon, the testimony related to money expended or received, deposited, and checked against or cash kept in deposit vaults in Detroit or handed out in the Grand Rapids offices from which the western Michigan campaign was directed.

Officials from Detroit and this city were on the stand to identify deposit slips, ledger entries, and voucher checks and guardians of the master key of a Detroit safety deposit vault and of keys to that institution by certain of the defendants.

At one stage of the proceedings Judge Sessions interrupted a reading of a long list of deposits and withdrawals with the remark that the jury "could possibly carry all those figures in their heads" and with the consent of the defense attorneys he ordered the records "considered as read."

The prosecution reckoned tonight that it had shown thus far in the case more than $200,000 had been used in the campaign. This was compared with the $1,750, which Judge Sessions has ruled was the limit of campaign expenses allowed by law for

ANNULMENT SUIT

Another chapter in the career of Dolly Ledgerwood Matters was disclosed yesterday.

With the filing of a suit for annulment by Mrs. Lola Matters, 3861 Lake Park avenue. The bill states that Frederick F. Matters, the husband, was married Nov. 24, 1917, to Dolly Matters at Crown Point. Attorney Cuthbert D. Potts, representing Mrs. Matters, said that he had found no record of divorce for Matters or Dolly.

Another woman is mentioned as having been married to Matters and later divorced. The present Mrs. Matters was married in Crown Point after a romance of one day. She left her husband two days later while on their honeymoon in Peoria upon learning of his other marriages, she says. Matters, when last heard of, was a department manager for the Frederick H. Bartlett real estate concern and was living in Chicago.

the 1918 senatorial campaign. The defense has indicated it will combat this point on the ground that the statutes refer solely to a candidate's personal contributions or expenditures.

WANT LIFE MADE
SAFE ON U. S. SIDE OF RIO GRANDE

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 5.—United States customs inspectors, Texas rangers, and civilian residents of the Big Bend district told the senate committee investigating the Mexican situation today conditions along that stretch of the Rio Grande were such that it must in the end be abandoned by Americans unless more adequate protection is afforded.

Cred Taylor, customs inspector at Marfa; Grover Webb, mounted customs inspector at Presidio; and R. M. Wadsworth, another customs inspector, charged that Chico Cano, whose name repeatedly has been connected with stories of outlaws, is now an officer in Carranza's army. Webb testified that Cano had been seen at Ojinaga, the northern military headquarters of the Mexican army, two weeks ago, where he had gone to collect his pay as scout leader.

Tabbed in Official Report. There also is in possession of the committee an official American army report in which it is stated that Cano now has thirty-five men under his command as scouts in the service of Carranza. The official army reports have implicated him in the capture of the American aviators, Lieuts. Petersen and Davis.

S. H. Neill, a ranger, gave details of the raid on the Bright ranch on Christmas morning, 1917. He said it has been impossible to secure any cooperation from the Mexican authorities in the maintenance of order.

Steal Stock for "Ransom." The stories of all the witnesses agreed that in a majority of cases the evidence indicated clearly that Carranza army officers instigated the raids and frequently participated in them. Taylor and Webb told of cattle driven from American ranches and their return made the subject of "negotiation" by Mexican army officials. In some instances Americans had paid, but in most cases the price demanded was too high. Taylor related one instance of a stolen horse, afterwards ridden by the Mexican general commanding the post at Ojinaga. Its return was requested. The general offered to sell it.

Loss Prestige in South America. Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—(Special.)—The senate foreign relations subcommittee was told today by Kirby Thomas, a New York mining engineer, that recognition of Carranza was a mistake and that a firm American policy toward Mexico would prove beneficial to the prestige and influence of the United States in Latin America. "We would not lose prestige among the South American countries by such a policy," said Mr. Thomas. "On the contrary we would gain respect and good will."

PARIS PROMOTER
GETS NEW OPTION
FROM CARPENTIERCables Dempsey About Go in Pershing Stadium.

WILDE NOT SIGNED

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 5.—Dave Hughes, manager of Jimmy Wilde, flyweight champion of the world, today denied that Wilde had signed to meet Frankie Mason for the flyweight championship at Toledo, Ohio.

"Toledo has offered us a $7,500 guarantee," said Hughes. "It must be $10,000 or there will be no fight."

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
[By Special Cable.]
PARIS, Feb. 5.—Theodore Vienne, well known Parisian who founded Wanderland—a sort of Riverview Park proposition—announces he has a sixty day option on Carpentier's services dating from Feb. 1 until March 30.

Vienne now is at Cambronic for a short rest and will return to Paris in a few days. He has been in touch with Dempsey by cable trying to line up the American on some proposition. He intends to make every effort to stage eight bouts at Pershing stadium and already has received promises from the French ministry, which now holds the property at Vincennes, that he can rent it.

Not to Tear Down Stadium.
It was suggested recently that, due to the high price of wood and the need for wood for construction of frame houses, the stadium would be taken down and the lumber used. Vienne obtained a promise from the authorities that the stadium would remain untouched until it was settled that the Carpentier-Dempsey fight would be held elsewhere than in Paris.

From confidential sources it is understood that Vienne promised to obtain Carpentier 2,000,000 francs for his end of the purse, win, lose or draw. However, Carpentier is not bound to accept Vienne's offer. The Frenchman is only engaged not to sign up with any other promoter until April 1.

Cochran Option Gone.
Cochran dropped out of the negotiations on Sunday when his option with Carpentier expired. Descamps went to London to see him after conferring with Abraham Carlos, who represents the Fox films here, and who offered $50,000 for Carpentier.

With the dollar worth almost fifteen francs today, this makes Vienne's offer look trifling, but Vienne had a good reason for offering this sum. He represents the Fox films here, and who offered $50,000 for Carpentier.

WEDDING BELLS
SOON WILL RING
FOR CARPENTIER

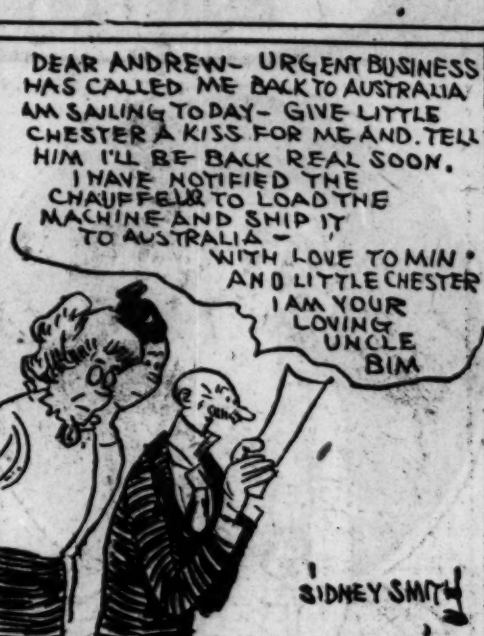

PARIS, Feb. 5.—Georges Carpentier, European heavyweight champion, will be married during the first week in March and will take his bride with him when he sails for the United States.

March 10, it was announced today. The name of the French fighter's bride to be has not been announced. Carpentier will receive $50,000 from an American movie concern for making a film in Los Angeles. At present exchange rates this will be more than $100,000 francs—a fortune in France. He said today that he would invest $100,000 francs in the new French loan.

Johnson Gets Passage
for Trip to New York

Mexico City, Feb. 5.—Jack Johnson, former champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, has engaged passage on the steamship Monterey and will arrive in New York the first week in March. He declared he was confident he could arrange differences with the United States district attorney at Chicago so that he might challenge Jack Dempsey, present heavyweight champion.

BIRD NOTES.
HAVE you seen many cardinals or red birds this winter? Readers all through the middle west tell us that they are unusually plentiful now. Any one can well feel flattered when such distinguished guests drop in, for the cardinal is one of the real aristocrats, being possessed of that rare combination: fine feathers, pleasing voice, cheerful disposition, and a certain smartness in carriage that goes with what is called "class" in the loop.

A reader living in Hinsdale writes: "You will be pleased to know that we heard the cardinals or red birds break out in their morning tribute for the first time this year. We have been watching and waiting for them, but this was the first soft morning and they did not disappoint us; about eight of them have been with us the last four or five years."

Those who do not feed birds, especially suburbanites and farmers, miss a lot of pleasure and amusement. The same reader quoted above says: "At home we feed the birds regularly and feed box. We were much amused Sunday last watching a new flock of blue jays. The old ones, who have been with us all summer, went into the box without fear, but the new ones sat in front of them, waiting very carefully before they finally went in; now they are regular callers."

CARD TWO BOUTS OF ACTION FOR
KENOSHA FEB. 16

Jimmy Dunn of Cleveland, who used to manage Featherweight Champion Johnny Kilbane, stopped off in Chicago for a few minutes yesterday. Those who mind were enough for the Cleveland, Emil Thiel, the local manager, and Promoter Fraser of Kenosha to arrange a double windup that should pull a lot of fans to Kenosha Feb. 16.

Two matches are closed as quickly as this double windup, which spills Cal Delaney of Cleveland and Jimmy Hanlon of Denver into the ring for one ten rounder, while in the other Kid Wolfe of Cleveland will exchange wallop with Mike Dundee of Rock Island.

The first pair are lightweights and will weigh in at 135 pounds at 3 o'clock, while the figure set for the banties is 120 pounds at the usual weighing in time.

After making the matches Dunn hopped the train for Minneapolis, where Delaney is billed for a ten round session with Pinkie Mitchell at Mike Collins' club.

Conduct Harvard Sport
in 1919 at $30,000 Loss

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 5.—Athletics at Harvard during the academic year 1918-1919 were conducted at a loss of more than $30,000. Baseball was the only sport to show a profit. The omission of varsity football was largely responsible for the deficit.

THE EXPENSE OF THE athletic program from September to June totaled $62,419.88, while the receipts reached only $32,211.78. The loss on the five major sports was about $7,600, although baseball netted a profit of $5,500. Soccer, golf, lacrosse, boxing, and general athletics were maintained at a loss of $15,000.

VAN LIEU CHAMPIONSHIP COACH.
Champaign, Ill., Feb. 5.—John Van Lieu of Joliet, formerly in charge of physical training at Camp Dodge, Iowa, has been appointed athletic coach at Champaign High school.

AMERICA, FRANCE AND BRITAIN VOTE EQUALS
IN WORLD RING UNION

PARIS, Feb. 5.—America's stand today enabled the International Boxing union to complete its organization under a scheme which accords the United States, Great Britain, and France equal voting powers in the league.

Each of these three major boxing nations will have ten votes, Belgium four, Australia three, Switzerland and Italy two each, and Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Holland, Brazil, and the Argentine one apiece.

World Champions Proclaimed.
The congress officially recognized the following champions:

Heavyweight—Jack Dempsey.
Light heavyweight—Vacant.
Middleweight—Mike O'Donnell.
Welterweight—Jack Britton.
Featherweight—John Leonard.
Bantamweight—John Kilbane.
Flyweight—Felix Herman.

Thus the United States army, navy, and civilian board of control, through Maj. Drexel Biddle, has accepted France and Great Britain as nations equal to her in importance in the boxing game, although Americans are recognized as holding six of the championships, all except the flyweight and vacant light heavyweight titles.

Biddle previously demurred to the proposition of conceding France a boxing rank equal to Great Britain. He sent a long cablegram, however, finally accepting those two nations as ten vote powers.

Lord Londale, Great Britain, and Paul Roussin, France, were elected vice presidents; the third vice presidency being reserved for a representative of the United States.

The election of the president was deferred until a candidate is proposed by the assembly and can be personally informed. Bell Hart, England, was appointed secretary and Mr. Douglas, England, treasurer.

Headquarters in London.
The union will have its headquarters in London. The next congress will meet at Antwerp after the Olympic games. All the members of the congress expressed the hope that America would be represented.

INCOME EXPERTS LOOSED ON TRAIL OF TAX DODGERS

Firms and Individuals Here
Are Suspected.

Expert statisticians of the internal revenue department, under command of Frank D. Richardson and A. P. Madden, yesterday began a sweeping investigation to locate income tax dodgers in the Chicago district.

With a complete list of the income returns filed last year, the investigators began checking up through banks, commercial agencies, and a score of other sources, the exact financial status for the year of a score of corporations and individuals reported to have made fraudulent returns. They intimated at least one corporation and a dozen or more individuals will face federal prosecution if the reports are true.

George K. Murdock, special investigator from Attorney General Palmer's office, who exposed graft in the revenue department in a sensational campaign, was named attorney for the department. He stated he would begin prosecution of income tax frauds the moment he is given data to work on.

Romance in Midgetland; Two Tiny Folk Betrothed

A tiny romance was disclosed yesterday when Anna Neider and Fritz Garabulo, both members of a troupe of midgets playing at the Majestic theater, announced their engagement. Anna, who is 20 years old and is 41 inches tall, towers over her future husband by an inch.

Most of their friends were surprised when told of the romance. "Well, we did try to keep this news from the others," Fritz said, "but we can't be married for some time, so we thought he had better tell them now." They plan to stay on the stage after their marriage.

INCOME TAX PROBLEMS

C. C. L. writes from Warsaw, Ind.: "Would a person be required to fill out a schedule and pay income tax who received $100 per month and three meals a day from his employer?"

Answer: A fair valuation of these meals must be added to your income. If, then, your total net income amounts to $1,000 if a single man, or $2,000 if married and living with your wife on Dec. 31, 1919, you must file an income tax return.

R. F. writes: "During 1919 I purchased some municipal bonds on which I paid accrued interest. As I pay no income tax on interest I received therefor, can I make a deduction for the accrued interest I paid out?"

Answer: No.

E. W. M. writes: "My home was robbed in August, 1919, of valuables amounting to several hundred dollars. Can I claim exemption for it under losses under general deductions? 2. Am I exempt $144 interest I paid on mortgage on my home?"

Answer: Yes. Report this loss in block I, No. 3, on the income tax schedule. (2) This interest is deductible. Enter the amount in same block, No. 1, on schedule.

"A Subscriber" writes: "As a side line and for the profit I can derive from same I keep an investment and speculation account separate from my other income and expenses. (1) May I deduct from any profits such items as postage, telegrams, brokers' fees, and subscriptions to financial magazines and statistical works, and sundry expenses incurred directly in operating this account? (2) Can I charge any losses I have sustained during the year against any profits? (3) If the losses exceed the gains, can I charge the deficit against my other income?"

Answer: 1, 2, and 3, yes.

RIGID ACTION TO GUARD INFANTS FROM BLINDNESS

Unrelenting prosecution has been decided upon by Attorney General Brundage of physicians and midwives who are disregarding the state law which prescribes the application of nitrate of silver to the eyes of all infants immediately after birth.

This campaign to prevent blindness will be conducted by the state department of public health.

Mrs. Frances Dobrzenski, midwife, 2338 North Leavitt street, was prosecuted by Charles C. Bartlett, assistant attorney general, in Judge Moran's court yesterday, and she was fined $10 and costs. She failed to take the precaution in the case of the child of Nicholas Scholber and wife, 2297 Fullerton avenue.

The Debonair Little Coatee

In the Eton frock featured and sketched at the left. The sash is of mahogany color or gray, with taupe, navy blue or old blue taffeta. The skirt tells its newness by little "flying points" above the hem.

For Women—Very Lovely New

Polo Coats—

Youthful in line, practical in purpose, and especially smart at this season of the year, are these polo coats. Many others take the line of the polo coats, but may be chosen of covert cloth or mixtures, if one prefers. Priced variously, $45 to $110.

At $95, a polo coat featured. It has a unique touch in the pockets—stitched flap with dark red thread.

C. L. CLINGS TO EDGE OF HOLE AS TRADE FALLS IN

Experts Theorize on Slump in Exchange.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.
"Anti" experts bent their full analytical powers yesterday upon the exchange market. Much "interpretative" was done over whether the slump in the British pound sterling would show up the purchasing power of the American dollar when passed through the butcher's and baker's counter.

Among the theorists optimism prevailed. Some of them were all ready for the funeral of Hi Cost of Living. But in business circles and among the hard-boiled "ultimate consumers" the woods were full of doubt. The wise "white collar" men refrained from ordering extra. Employers were skeptical that the demands for wage increases, based on Hi Cost explanations, would be modified, chief interest in this phase being manifested by the building contractors.

Wholesale Prices Influenced.

The hogman carried market prices of some foodstuffs still lower than on Wednesday. They are wholesale prices and it is a question of how long it will take the drop to penetrate to retail prices. Some went back and some went higher. The leading changes were:

Four-Droped 50 cents a barrel in Minneapolis. But many large bakers are not buying at wholesale prices. They are buying at retail prices. The leading changes were:

Four-Droped 35 cents in the month. Sixty-Three cents lower.

Best rice—Fall 20 to 22 cents a barrel. Fall from $35.90 a barrel to $34.10. On hoof, dropped 70 cents a head to $14.12 average, which is $1.10 below Monday last week.

Cattle—Best 10 to 25 cents per 100 higher.

Wool—Recovered part of Wednesday's loss.

Wool—Cash fell 1 to 4 cents. Wool—Fall 1 to 3 cents. Wool—Fall 1 to 2 cents.

May Hi Food Speculators.

The best line of reasoning advanced was that the exchange slump at wheat prices on many food speculators who have been grabbing stuff for foreign export since the armistice. This material may be backed up on the market. Whether it will cause much of a drop in kitchen bills is another question. Retail prices are always slow to follow the trend of wholesale prices. Many found food for reflection the following:

Best dropped 35 per cent wholesale in five months, yet retail prices are still bumping the clouds. Hides fell, but shoes are still up. Foreign exchange has been sliding for months, but prices have still been soaring and index numbers are higher than ever.

The upward shove given Hi Cost of Living supporters soon after the war by the market, according to well-informed sources.

Figures Tell Story.

The export figures tell the story. For 1919 our exports were nearly $2,000,000,000, as compared with $1,148,000,000 in 1918. Our foreign trade ran up to $11,100,000,000, and our favorable "balance of trade" was over the $4,000,000,000 mark, or nearly $1,000,000,000 more than in 1918.

Increased exports of foodstuffs, raw materials and manufactured goods, of course, were a large factor in all this. Now there are full signs that in addition to the slump in exchange, which will encourage exports and put a nick in importations, over which nobody is going to shed many tears, European nations are beginning to ease up considerably in their demands.

In America at present the number of unemployed is decreased about 1 1/2 per cent. There is an increased weight in the pockets now to be marketed. The figures show the supply is still 5,000,000 ahead of the 1917 supply. All might be to help the consumer somewhat, but it is a question when.

Last month the demand for beef was not as great as the supply.

Ad Labor Situation.

Speculation as to how the labor situation may be affected if Hi Cost of Living should drop materially is interesting. As a general rule, just as labor is beginning to ease up, the demand for labor is increasing. Even if Hi Cost of Living should drop, the demand for labor may not be affected. So the building and construction industry, for example, the carpenters and bricklayers will still ask for $1.25 an hour.

EMPPOWER TEACHERS' BOARD TO ACT ON PAY

The board of managers of the Chicago Teachers' Federation will meet tonight to consider what action shall be taken in the matter of wage increases for the teachers.

When thousands and seventy-one teachers last night affirmed their signature to an agreement to give "cooperation" in support to any action of the Chicago Teachers' Federation, the board of managers or its officers may find it necessary to bring about the enforcement of a "health, safety and efficiency" wage for elementary teachers.

Ida L. M. Fursman, president of the federation, is ill of influenza, but directing the campaign by telephone from her bed.

Ball and Chain Husband Seeks to Sever Links

While the "ball and chain" husband was away, Mrs. Vera Bowker Hoyne evidently had a wonderful time in the home apartment at 4194 Clarendon avenue and in other places about Chicago. A trap game at 4 a. m. in Colorado, a pajama party at the Virginia hotel, and several negligee cocktail parties at the apartment were described yesterday in Judge David's courtroom.

Mrs. Christopher R. Hoyne, 3d division, A. E. F., who asked a divorce on the grounds of infidelity, is an advertising man now in New York City. He told the court he asked his pretty wife to accompany him to the Marlborough Gardens one evening, but she refused, saying she had a headache.

When Hoyne returned Mrs. Hoyne had just entered the apartment. She admitted she had been to the apartment of a man named Whiting, a Chicago broker.

Maid Describes Hotel Visit.

Mrs. Dora MacLean, a former maid at the Virginia hotel, said Mrs. Hoyne had registered there as though with her husband, although Hoyne at the time was in a training camp in Georgia.

Depositions of Lillian Swanson, a former maid in the Hoyne apartment, mentioned the name of Whiting as a guest at late parties in the apartment.

Ball and Chain Husband.

Mrs. Hoyne, describing to her maid a late party at Coleman's, wherein she and seven others had taken part in a trap game, made the remark that "she should never have married a ball and chain husband, and that she required several admirers."

Mrs. Hoyne on the stand denied all accusations except the visit to Whiting's apartment. This she said was nothing but a tea party.

The jury will return a sealed verdict this morning.

FAHERTY AS NEW DANIEL QUELLS TAXPAYER LIONS

Stills Ogden Avenue Roar, Wins Rally Hearing.

Three thousand property owners of the Twenty-third ward assembled last night in Lincoln Turner hall at 1005 Diversey parkway to protest against the carrying out of the Ogden avenue improvement plan. They met, argued, agreed that the plan shouldn't be continued at present, and then—

Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, roared his way to popularity and finally retired amid laughter and cheers and with partial victory.

The project for the widening and continuation of Ogden avenue from Union to Lincoln park is part of the "city beautiful plan." A bond issue to pay half the cost was approved by the voters and property owners in the neighborhood of the improvement were to foot the rest of the bill. That's where the rub came.

All Take Slam at Project.

The board of local improvements fixed the territory within which property owners were to be taxed, assessment slips were sent out, and then the howl went up. The property owners assembled last night. Their leader, Henry T. Carr, a real estate dealer at 64 West Randolph street, said the high cost of materials made the improvement a crime at this time.

Dr. William Thompson agreed and said he wouldn't pay.

George W. Torpe of the Lake View Property Owners' Improvement association, said the assessments were outrageous, and the board had camouflaged the truth.

Then came Ald. Walter Steffen and Thomas O. Wallace. Wallace said the improvement would be detrimental to the property instead of improving it. He called the plan one for a "great boulevard for the west side to come to Lincoln park on." That brought cheers for him and jeers for the mayor.

"Fight it and beat it. Get a lawyer to take your cases!" he said. The crowd cheered.

Ald. Steffen said the same thing—no more money when he would through the entire 2,000 were roaring.

Mike to the Rescue.

Throughout all that sat Mike Faherty. He heard one of his pet ideas ridiculed. He heard "em jeer the mayor. He rushed to the speakers' stand.

"Listen," he said, "I have been on this platform time and again making political speeches, and if you think you can chase me away you're wrong. You can't! I'm going to stick here until you know the facts."

"Don't hire a lawyer who makes a business of that stuff. He'll get you all and charge you 30 per cent of all he saves you. Get one lawyer to take one case. Take it to court and let the court decide whether you are being trimmed."

"Wallace knows that's right—so does Steffen. This is a political meeting. The people out there don't know it, but it is."

"If the court decided you have been assessed too much, come to me and I'll cut the assessment for you."

Mike Wins 'Em Over.

He talked and talked, and finally he won 'em over to his viewpoint. He never got 'em to give up their protests, but he announced the improvement might be a good thing, after all, and that they needed it.

A committee of five real estate owners was appointed to look into Faherty's plan for reducing the assessments.

WARM HEARTED FOLK CONTRIBUTE TO KEEP OUR POOR FOLK WARM

NOW if we all lived in Florida. Poor folks wouldn't have to gather round stoves to keep from freezing. They wouldn't have to worry about that next bushel of coal. They wouldn't have to scurry around alleys to find fuel. There wouldn't be any need for a TRIMMUS coal fund.

But we can't all live in Florida. There are many poor folks here who really need coal to keep them from freezing. Contributions yesterday to THE TRIBUNE coal fund, which provides coal for these poor folk, were:

JOY AND MIRTH FLASH IN BRIGHT FLASKS UNTIL—

Intruders Come In on Bond Men, but—

A cosmic suspense enthralled all assembled at the meeting for the advancement of occult knowledge concerning the possibility of revivification of the Arabian Nights genie of the magic bottle as the trained investigator announced he would soon be able to determine whether his experiment had been productive of the desired apothecary.

The time was last night; scene, the Palm room of the Hotel Sherman; personnel, 170 members of the Bond Men's club of Chicago, who, incidentally, were enjoying their eighth annual banquet. The investigator, who was also toastmaster, had before him a pint flask incased in silver.

"He Lives," "He Breathes."

This he now raised to his lips, and the 170 banqueters attracted similar flasks from hip pockets and did likewise. Fervently became unrestrained as the toastmaster proclaimed:

"He lives!" cried a banqueter.

"He seems to feel the thrill of life; He has a kick."

The bottled Helicon continued to move toward that bourn from which he hundred proof returns. The bond salesmen were calling for revenue stamps to complete their happiness, when a couple of unbidden guests, stern of men and determined of purpose, entered the Palm room, and began collecting flasks. They were house detectives of the Sherman.

Intruders Out of Luck.

As rapidly as they gathered in the flasks they snuffed each one expertly. The flasks, however, were empty. Panicked, the banqueters who had not been reached tossed flasks and seltzer bottles under the tables.

The heroic orchestra saved the day by perpetrating a soporific jazz tune, which assuaged all mental unrest.

Yes, Let's Return to Flasks!

But to return to the flasks. The house detectives had summarily seized three of the banqueters and were approaching a man who had still a little left.

Here it was announced that the officers elected for 1920 were August

HEALTH OFFICIAL WINS BRIDE IN RUSH COURTESY

Dr. Albert J. Stokes, former chief of the bureau of food inspection, was married last night to Miss Sarah Nennins, 2157 La Verne avenue in the presence of over a hundred guests. The marriage took place in her home and was performed by the Rev. T. J. Crowe. Dr. Stokes is now connected with the United States public health service. The couple met about six weeks ago and since then the doctor has been an assiduous wooer.

The bride inherited $62,500 from her mother who died recently.

Dr. Stokes has purchased a $24,000 residence at 6342 Kenwood avenue, where he and his bride will reside.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

In the list of names of those passing recent bar examinations appeared that of Joseph Du Rand. The name is Joseph Du Rand.

Knight, President; George T. Leach, treasurer; C. B. Stuart, secretary.

—A man who had still a little left.

"Ah, you've come left," they said.

"Yes."

"Thanks. All we wanted was a drink."

Later it was learned that Frank Manton, in charge of the banquet, had conspired with the officers. That is to say, you see, it was a jolly joke.

GIRLS, 11 AND 14, FOUND WITH MAN AT CLEVELAND

Cleveland, O., Feb. 6.—[Special.]—A two weeks' search for two Chicago girls ended here when they were taken into custody by detectives in company with a man while stopping at a downtown hotel. They were turned over to the juvenile court.

The girls gave their names as Hazel Brown, 11 years old, of 4521 St. Lawrence avenue, and Vera Magnus, 14, of 340 East Forty-third street, Chicago. The man gave his name as Pedro Villa Mondorco, 22, Del Rio, Tex.

The girls said they ran away from their homes Jan. 25 because they had been whipped by their parents. They met a man who took them to Detroit. On Jan. 25, they said, they met Mondorco, and came with him to Cleveland.

Mr. Millions Has Less Art than Paris White Wings

"The street sweeper of Paris probably has a better idea of art than the average American millionaire," said Prof. Peter Christian Lutkin, dean of music at Northwestern university, last night at a mass-meeting of citizens at the Evanston city hall. The meeting had been called to discuss plans for a memorial for Evanston soldiers who died in the war. Dean Lutkin urged the erection of a beautiful building.

CITY PICKS 5 TO CURB RENT HOGS' PROFIT ROOTING

U. S. Also Acts; Watches Landlords' Income.

Tenants who are victims of unreasonable increases in rent should send their complaints direct to James J. Carroll, chairman of the renting division of the Chicago real estate board, 26 North Dearborn street.

Any rent hog who came out yesterday saw shadows—enough to make him crawl back for some time to come.

Chief of the "shadows" was the city council. At its direction Mayor Thompson appointed a committee of five aldermen to go after the rent hogs.

The investigating committee consists of Ald. Robert J. Mulcahy, chairman; Scott M. Hogan, Thomas F. Byrne, Oscar H. Olsen, and Thomas F. Lynch. Ald. Mulcahy, who introduced the order for the inquiry, named the aldermen he wished to make it and asked the mayor to appoint them.

"Ald. Mulcahy wishes to accept the responsibility and should be given the co-workers he desires," said the mayor.

Plan Landlord "Tricks."

"I have heard rumors of a conspiracy among real estate men to raise rents," said Mulcahy. "If we find a conspiracy exists we can call on the mayor to revoke the licenses of the men involved."

"We will get to work immediately as the situation is acute. Flat rents are being boosted 75 and 100 per cent and loop rents 200 per cent. We will go into both problems. Perhaps state legislation will be necessary. If it is we will go to Springfield."

Ald. Mulcahy requested that renters forward complaints to Commissioner of Public Service William H. Reid, sixth floor of the city hall, who will compile and turn them over to the committee. Public hearings, which landlords named by tenants as profiteers will be asked to attend, will begin next week, he said.

U. S. Watches Rent Boosts.

The government also took a hand in the fight. Landlords small and large were being boosted 75 and 100 per cent and loop rents 200 per cent. We will go into both problems. Perhaps state legislation will be necessary. If it is we will go to Springfield."

Ald. Mulcahy requested that renters forward complaints to Commissioner of Public Service William H. Reid, sixth floor of the city hall, who will compile and turn them over to the committee. Public hearings, which landlords named by tenants as profiteers will be asked to attend, will begin next week, he said.

SEIZED SECOND TIME FOR NORTH SHORE ROBBERIES

Chief of Police Burgess of Lake Forest arrested William Burgess, proprietor of an auto livery in the suburb, for the second time last night as an accomplice in the robbery of north shore homes last fall.

Burgess was seized last night on a warrant charging he helped to steal $10,000 worth of liquor from the home of Hugh J. McBrine on the Green Bay road. He was freed on $5,000 bond by Police Magistrate Vickerman and will have a hearing today. More arrests are forecast.

Burgess was implicated in the robbery of the home of Jonas Kuppenheimer and is now on bond pending trial of that case.

HELP COMES TO PRAIRIE SHACK; MORE IS NEEDED

Things are beginning to look a little brighter for the family of John W. Cope in the prairie shack southwest of the city. The Salvation Army is receiving assistance in providing for them.

Employees of the Progress Tailoring company at 161 West Harrison street took up a $28 collection yesterday and several persons have promised to provide clothing. But there is need of a great deal more, for Mr. Cope has been practically an invalid for the last nine years and Mrs. Cope and one of her six children are ill in bed.

Capt. Dick hopes others will help in making the drab little home a bit happier.

U. S. Agents Seize Eight and Win Police Aid

Federal prohibition agents made eight arrests yesterday in their fight against liquor.

The arrests broke up Chicago's end of a nation-wide moonshine ring made possible through fake physicians' prescriptions.

Chief Garrity's police force prepared for definite action for the enforcement of the letter of the dry laws.

15 STORY HOTEL PLANNED FOR DEARBORN ST.

BY AL CHASE.

Dearborn street may have a big new hotel, just north of Madison 15— and the it is so big that those who know considerably about the deal, say it won't be carried out for several years—present high prices of building material and labor ever come down.

The properties involved are the eight story Iroquois club building at 28 North Dearborn street and the twelve story Boyce building adjoining on the north. The total Dearborn street frontage is 60 feet with a depth of 100 feet. Present plans call for the wrecking of the Iroquois club building May, 1921, and the addition of three stories and complete reconstruction of the Boyce building, to harmonize with the fifteen story hotel to supplant the Iroquois club building.

Properties Transferred.

In connection with this project a transfer of properties has been made by which the Boyce printing establishment at the northwest corner of Illinois and North Dearborn streets, 121x100, has been taken over from Mrs. Boyce by the State Bank of Chicago as trustee for Mrs. Boyce and children.

The Boyce and Iroquois club buildings, formerly held in trust by the same bank, having failed to yield the desired $16,000 a year for Mrs. Boyce and children, have been transferred by the trustee to Mr. Boyce and Mrs. Boyce. In both transactions the indicated consideration is $200,000.

Nathan Reiss has purchased from George D. Leonard of Tulsa, Ok., the 40x80 east front, in North Franklin street, eighty feet north of Randolph street, for an indicated consideration of $85,000, subject to $20,000.

Plan $5,500 Factory.

The Reliable Electric company has purchased from E. O. Ellsworth and others, through Hart & Whetson, the 24x150 on Carroll avenue, north front, just east of Kedzie avenue, for a reported price of $18,500 cash and will at once erect a one story factory building to cost $85,000.

The Ambrosy-Francis company has sold through A. J. Montague & Son the south vacant portion of their property on the east side of Morgan street, 118 feet south of West Thirty-fifth street, with a frontage of 200 feet and a depth of 100, to the Central Realty Agency and Loan company, for a reported price of $55,000, an equivalent of $1.75 per square foot.

The six apartment building at 604x45 Champlain avenue has been sold by Elmer Pascoe, through Ehrenhalt & Beatty, to Kohn & Kraus, at a reported price of $25,000. South shore vacant was given as part payment. The same brokers sold to George T. Daunt to Bertha Reinhardt the six apartment building at 700x100 Merrill avenue, at a reported price of $30,000.

Security Under Mortgage

Under the covenants of the Trust Mortgage the bonds are not only a direct closed first mortgage on the land and building, but are also a first lien on the income from the property, a sufficient portion of which must be deposited monthly to meet the principal and interest payments in cash promptly on the days due.

Land and Building: The land covers the entire block frontage on the west side of Madison Avenue between 43rd and 44th Streets with the exception of two 25 foot lots, and has a maximum depth of 179 feet. The building will be 21 stories in height, of the highest type of fireproof, steel frame construction and will be one of the finest office buildings in the city. It will be used entirely for offices with the exception of a large auditorium which is being especially constructed for the use of the Fifth Church of Christ, Scientist. The building will be erected, and its completion, in accordance with the plans and specifications, free and clear of all prior liens, is unconditionally guaranteed to the bondholders by S. W. STRAUS & CO.

Earnings: The net annual earnings—from the office building alone—on which the bonds are a first lien are conservatively estimated at over two and one-half times the greatest annual interest charge.

Location and Rental Demand: The location is in one of the best business sections of New York City—one block from the Grand Central Terminal, one block from 42nd Street, less than a block from Fifth Avenue, and directly opposite the Biltmore Hotel. The demand in this section is so strong that first class office space is held at a constantly rising premium and the management of the building will therefore be able to choose tenants of the most desirable class.

Monthly Deposits: In order to make certain that the borrowing corporation applies its rental income as received each month to the payment of principal and interest before any other obligations are met and in order to provide systematically for the payment of both principal and interest in cash on the days when due, monthly deposits of principal and interest in a sinking fund are required.

We have purchased the above bonds with our own funds after careful investigation and recommend them as a thoroughly safeguarded investment.

STOCKS FALL AS LOAN RATE GOES TO 20 PER CENT

The New York Times.

New York, Feb. 5.—[Special.]—The stock market and the foreign exchange market moved in opposite directions today under influence of some of which were clear and others were not.

A greater stringency in the money market than on Wednesday, the call loan rate getting as high as 20 per cent, helped to maintain the flow of liquidation and there were indications of additional sales for the short account.

Some Stocks Recover.

Again sales of stocks from interior business supplied a large part of the day's business. Industrial stocks declined from 1 to 3 points in the morning, but at no time was there such a movement to sell as the day before, as when business closed a number of shares recorded substantial recoveries from their lowest prices. The renewal rate of 17 per cent for call money was higher than had been witnessed in many years.

Exchange is Higher.

It was not surprising, all things considered, that the foreign exchange market rather than the stock market in Italy. Sterling slightly, excepting rates on cents to the pound, with a final quotation of $2.29; francs were a trifle better at the day before, and Belgian rates moved forward with fair vigor at times. Bankers reported a decided shrinkage in the demand for dollars in respect to sterling especially was furthered by conditions of covering on this side.

The recovery of sterling had no effect on the gold auction market in London; on the contrary, eager bidders carried the price up to 127 1/2 per ounce against 126 1/2 on Wednesday.

BANKERS EVOLVE
PLANS TO AVOID A MONEY PANIC

New York, Feb. 5.—[Special.]—Wall street bankers have taken steps to prevent the development of a money panic. It was learned on good authority today, and confirmed in other quarters, that an understanding has been reached at a series of informal conferences held in the last few days. Details of the discussion at these conferences are not available, but it is known that some of the bankers with whom the Federal Reserve Bank of New York stock exchange has been in touch, their legitimate needs for bank money have been provided for in spite of any tightening of the money market, incident to the campaign away from over expansion which the Federal Reserve board is directing.

On their own initiative, the New York bankers, it was ascertained, will not formally revive the money committee, which was called into existence as an adjunct to the Liberty committee by the treasury department during the war. Unless re-summoned by the government, the money committee as such, could not function in peace times, in the opinion of some leading bankers, without violating the anti-trust laws.

Bond Market Less Active;
Liberty Issues Fall Again

New York, Feb. 5.—[Special.]—There was a curtailment of activities in the corporation issues in the bond market today and pressure of sales was not heavy in any particular issue. The general movement of prices, however, was toward a lower level, prevailing high rates for money precluding the possibility of any improvement in tone under existing conditions.

MARSHALL FIELD & COMPANY

"Mr. Rodier, the fabric maker"
 tells me that he is so encouraged over the demand for plaids he has decided to develop the idea in Spring suitings.

The above was written October 28, 1919—so far in advance does this authoritative style information come to us, accounting for the authenticity of the clothes you see offered here.

Examples are the delightfully smart Skirts one sees both in the Women's and the Misses' Skirt Sections, fashioned of handsome plaid wool velours. And the Suits!—with their jackets of plain color with plaid pipings to match the skirts—they are so smart one is charmed that "Mr. Rodier, the fabric maker" was "encouraged" last Autumn to develop the idea in Spring suitings!

The Store is well worth a leisurely visit these days when every bit of sunshiny weather brings hints of the Spring so soon to come, and clothes of unusual charm.

High or Low-necked, Blouses Are Dainty

WITH the winning charm of the incoming suits, separate skirts and wraps, small wonder that Blouses have attained such alluring beauty! Blouses in a good assortment one surely must have this Springtime, and to choose them here is a positive delight.

Sheer, fine net, hand-embroidered in color, makes the Blouse at the left above, with its shortened sleeves, rows of color-tipped crochet buttons and little colored cord to thread its hue through the ruffled collar line. Fine tucks are also employed, to advantage. $25.

High-necked, tailored with a becoming precision, yet made most daintily of fine crepe Georgette, the Blouse at the right above has its turn-of-cuff collar and tailored cuffs tied with prim little black ribbon bows. Fine sheer embroidered batiste makes the vestee. $22.50.

Women's Blouses, Sixth Floor, Middle, State.

Of Taffeta with Plaitings—These Misses' Frocks—$67.50

IF three such charming exponents as those illustrated above could make a mode, there seems good reason to predict a vogue for taffeta Frocks, and many finely plaited frills as trimmings. These Frocks have been specially purchased for this selling; they have but just arrived, and will make potent appeal to all who realize how smart and difficult to obtain are good taffetas this Spring. Colors and trimmings are youthful and Springlike.

Buffant of Skirt and A Tassel-trimmed Front Panel Appears comes the crisp taffeta Frock pictured above at the left. This has beaded side pockets, a girle frill edged, terminating beneath a frill-edged buckle at the back. The modish neckline, which is shallow at front and back and dropped on each shoulder, boasts a bead-trimmed little collar.

on the Frock at the center, also trimmed with plaited frills on short sleeves, peplum and girle. Frills Are Criss-crossed on the Tunic of the Frock at the right with its ample sash and its short sleeves. Front and back of the bodice are elaborately beaded.

Each is priced very specially at $67.50.

Misses' Frocks, Sixth Floor, North.

Bright Wool Flowers
 Adorn Newest Organdie Collar and Vestee Sets

THEY have a look of being brought from some old treasure box of samplers, for they are worked with those same vividly colored threads which our grandmothers were wont to employ. But these Collars, Cuffs and Vestees have, too, just the air of crispness and chic which one asks for the Spring.

First Floor, Middle, State

Maize, blue and other colors of organdie are delightfully embroidered with deep reds, dark greens, bright yellows—little flowerets being strewn in most effective manner.

The Set of Vestee, Collar and Cuffs illustrated, $8.75
 Sets of Collars and Cuffs, $2.25 to $4.75.

Handkerchiefs for Valentines

WHAT prettier way could there be of expressing Valentine sentiments than by sending one of these filmy squares, attractively boxed, a tiny red heart concealed within its folds?

Both white and colored novelties are among the present attractive displays—white with colored borders or colored with white borders. Some are printed in novel designs, others are hand-embroidered, in tiny sprays of color. 25c to $1.
